SUICIDE AND AUTO ACCIDENTS TAKE FOUR LIVES

Saves life of grandchild by leap from auto

Tragedy made four hits and two misses in this area since Saturday. The "hits" were the deaths of an expectant mother on her way to a hospital, deaths of two women due to failure to obey stop signs, serious injuries to others and suicide of a retired laborer who had become despondent.

The two misses were the spectacular escape of a grandfather and grandson from a death by a diesel-powered train and a young boy who only received broken bones when hit by a car. Both of these occurred at Palatine.

THE BODY of Otto Jannusch, 3616 Augusta boulevard, Chicago was found Tuesday night hanging from the sill of an upper window in the home he is building near Tonne and Devon ave. The discovery was made by his son-in-law, William Coffey and brother, Allen, of 1006 N. Hamlin, Chicago.

The Wood Dale taxi driver told the police that he had taken Jannusch to his place about noon that day when he appeared to be in good spirits.

When he did not return home, the family became alarmed and two brothers and their wives drove to the house that the deceased was building. The windows had been covered. The two men entered the building and discovered the body.

Bailing wire and rope had been used to fashion the noose. He had evidently jumped from a chair. The remains were taken to Des Plaines where Dr. Heller pronounced him dead and gave his opinion that he had died five hours earlier.

The family told police that although he was retired he appeared to be despondent at times because he could not find work.

MRS. ROSEMARY Crandall, Algonquin road, R. 1. Arlington Heights was killed Tuesday night when she fell from the running board of the car of Melvin Denis, 21, who is employed by her husband.

Her husband, Freeman Crandall, a paving contractor, told Milwaukee Ave. county highway police that his wife was attempting to pursuade himself and Denis not to visit a tavern.

As the Denis car turned a corner, Mrs. Crandall who has only one hand, lost her grip on the car and fell, her head striking the cement pavement. She lost one hand in an accident several years ago.

he injured woman was taken to the Northwestern hospital where she was pronounced dead. The inquest, held Wednesday noon in Oak Park, was continued a month.

Deceased leaves a son, Donald 9, and a daughter, Barbara, 7. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 o'clock in Oak Park.

ONE PERSON was killed and three others injured Sunday in a tragic highway accident at Devon ave. and Arlington Heights rd., north of Itasca.

Mrs. Mable McQueen, 55, a Park Ridge housewife, died at Elmhurst hospital three hours after she sustained severe head injuries in the accident.

She and her husband, Harry McQueen, 57, were going down Arlington Heights rd. when their car was hit by that of William F. Meyer, 59, of Mundelein and his wife, Rose, 54, who were headed east on Devon ave.

Sheriff's Highway police report that Meyer failed to halt for a stop sign causing the collision which knocked the McQueen automobile into a shallow creek. McQueen, only slightly injured, was able to drag his wife from the car which had settled in four feet of water. The police administered first aid until she was taken to the hospital.

Meyer and his wife were also taken to Elmhurst hospital with possible brain concussions and severe internal injuries.

MRS. MAXINE LARSON of Glendale rd., Glenview, was fatally injured Saturday morning when the car in which she was being taken to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, for the birth of her sixth child, hit the car of Robert Noonan, 31, of 429 S. Hale st., Palatine.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Shermer and Route 58.

Physicians said heart tones of the unborn child stopped more than an hour before the mother's death and no effort was made to save the child.

Her husband, Vernon Larson, who was driving the car, testified at the inquest that as he approached Route 58 and slowed down, he saw no other car and did not come to a full stop.

Dale Thomas, Barrington, was a passenger in the Noonan car which was traveling east in the outer lane. His car was struck in the center which caused him to lose contral of the car which ran into the ditch. Neither was injured.

THREE-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lutke, 46 N. Forest ave. Palatine, had a narrow escape from a more serious injury Saturday night when he was hit by a Yellow taxi driven by Robert Schwankoff.

Mr. Lutke had parked his car on the west side of the street, adjacent to the A&P. The little fellow, unknown to his dad, left the car and went to the east side of the street. Suddenly he spied his father and ran back just as the taxi turned a corner. Fortunately he was only hit by the car fender. He sustained two fractures in the ankle and a few cuts on the face. Mr. Lutke did not know that his son was out of the car until just before the accident.

The boy's mother is one of the Denning sisters of stage and radio fame.

Martin Fiene, 60 of 428 N. Plum Grove ave., Palatine, saved his own and the life of his grandson when he leaped from his stalled auto a few seconds before the streamliner, Duluth-Superior limited hit it Saturday night, at the Plum Grove railroad crossing.

The grandson, Daniel Lee Reese, had asked to accompany his grandfather to the train to meet his mother, Mrs. Alice Reese. Arriving at the railroad crossing Fiene waited for a train to pass. When the gates raised he started across, but killed the engine.

BEFORE HE could get it started the crossing gates lowered for train No. 511, diesel powered, coming from the south. Fiene grabbed his grandchild and ran to the southside of the tracks.

The locomotive hit the 1937 Ford sedan with such force that the motor was thrown a hundred feet on the north side of the tracks. The screaming train brakes brought a large crowd to the scene of the accident and it was at first thought that the car occupants were somewhere in the wreckage. The train, traveling 75 miles an hour, was brought to a stop within a quarter of a mile.

Mrs. Reese learned of the accident when she alighted from the train. Her informer did not know that her father had saved his life. Satisfied that he was safe, she rushed home to see for herself that her son had also escaped.

Otto Mess, who witnessed the accident, said it was a miraculous escape and Fiene showed great presence of mind.

Give Hallowe'en party at Youth Center Monday

The fourth annual Arlington Heights Youth Center Halloween party will get under way at 7:30 p.m. next Monday. The field house will be appropriately decorated with witches and ghosts to provide atmosphere.

Events of the evening will follow the pattern of successful parties of the past but with a considerable number of new features added including professional entertainment. Some of the events include fortune tellers, bean guessing game and carnival booths. In addition, George Finelli and his band will provide music for dancing during the evening for the 500 expected Ramble Inn members.

A LIST of gifts for the teenagers during the evening includes football tickets to the Bear-Packer game, the Northwestern-Wisconsin game, free hot dogs, a new basketball, and a radio.

A half-hour Halloween spook show will be staged by Ramble Inn members, which should keep everyone looking behind them on the way home.

Admission to the party is free, but everyone must present his membership card at the door.

CHAIRMEN of the student committees preparing for the party include Betty McCall, Who's Who Guessing Game; Pat Ryden, decorations; Bernard Brock, booths and furniture; Jeannine Shelkop, publicity; Pat Gieseke, posters and signs; Barbara Tichy, floor show; and Bernard Brock, clean-up.

Also assisting with plans are Mrs. H. Winterbauer and Robert Blackburn of the adult committee A substantial number of parents have been secured to work at the booths the evening of the party, so that teen-agers will be free to enjoy all the activities.

Abandoned auto puts police on merry-go-round

A mix-up in license plates caused county police Pladis and Henning to believe they'd found a "hot" car abandoned in S. State rd., just south of Arlington Hts. Sunday.

The 1938 Oldsmobile, which was minus a right front wheel, apparently went in the ditch late Saturday night. Neighbors in the vicinity seemed to know nothing about it and someone notified the police. In checking the police found the license to differ with the vehicle sticker.

Further investigation brought out the fact that the license, which was number 387-036, had been issued to one E. N. Christiansen of Chicago. Checking Christiansen's license card police found it read the same, but he owned a Plymouth, the license on same reading 387-035.

Apparently when Christiansen picked up his license at a local currency exchange they issued him the wrong plates and the error wasn't discovered until now.

The owner of the car was a Mr. Coeppl, who had left his auto there after it broke down and walked to his home, which was not far away. His license card and plates were just the opposite of Christiansen's.

Lions club heads contributions to Youth Center

Arlington Heights Lions club has taken the initiative among local organizations in contributions to the Youth Center fund. Payment of $200 was authorized at last week's meeting.

Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 981, has shown its support of the youth project by contributing $50. Other organizations are expected to join the parade of Youth Center supporters.

LOCAL LIONS CLUB has entered upon a campaign to raise by subscriptions $1,000 as its contribution to Lions International city that the organization is going to build south of Chicago.

It was the consensus of opinion of the club that the thousand dollars could be raised by popular subscription without taking any club funds. Following a survey of questionnaires regarding the best means of raising funds, it was agreed to try to reach the $1,000 goal within the next few weeks and forward the entire amount as quickly as possible. Mr. N. M. Lattof is chairman of the fund raising committee.

Suit charges Arlington Heights sewage treatment plant is antiquated and illegal

The anticipated injunction and damage suit against Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Des Plaines, along with two drainage districts, filed last week in Circuit court, charged the defendants with responsibility in polluting the waters of Weller Creek.

Robert Himel, resident manager of the Photo Service, Inc., at Graceland and Rand roads, Des Plaines, filed the complaint in his own behalf and on that of the photo firm.

The bill asserts that sewage and lime deposits in the 16 mile creek, are dumped along the stream north of the plaintiff's home and business.

HIMEL ALLEGES specifically that the village of Arlington Heights dumps "raw, untreated sewage" into the creek, causing pollution, which it is declared is in violation of a state law dating back to 1911.

The Arlington Heights sewage hits the creek about four miles north of the plaintiff's residence, the suit states, adding that demands to halt the dumping have been "totally ignored."

The village, according to the suit, lies in "the direct path of a major building boom" and Arlington Heights officials are issuing or "threatening to issue" building permits with sewer connections, which it is alleged will further pollute Weller creek.

The present sewage disposal plant in Arlington Heights is termed "antiquated and illegal."

MT. PROSPECT, on the other hand, has no sewage disposal system of its own, the suit declares, but drains lead to the tiles, tubes and ditches of the Weller Creek Drainage District. When this system was built, the suit charges, it was not intended for sewage purposes, and its use as such is illegal.

The bill asserts that Mt. Prospect "threatens to indefinitely continue to pollute" the creek waters.

"Living on the downstream side of Mt. Prospect is unbearable," the complaint charged, terming the odors from sewage a "nuisance."

COMPLAINTS against Des Plaines are based on lime deposits in the creek, rather than sewage matters. The suit declares that a water softening plant, which pumps from one to two tons of lime a day, with 60,000 gallons of water, into the creek has seriously affected the plant and fish life in the water.

A lime settling basis, to prevent this, is imperfect, according to the bill.

DES PLAINES sewage is handled by another defendant in the action, the Chicago Sanitary District. So-called Imhoff tanks are operated by the district to eliminate the sewage content of the water, but the bill says that these are only 60 per cent efficient, and that sewage is still dumped into Weller creek.

It is claimed that the acts of the defendants "produces sundry nauseous odors, smells, stenches and stinks which are repugnant to the human nose." The nuisance is allegedly very bad during low ebb seasons, and it is asserted that the result is a health hazard and a breeding ground for insects.

Despite an injunction to stop the alleged pollution of waters in the stream, the suit also seeks $10,000 damages from the defendants. This latter is asked for the photo company which claims it uses considerable water in its operations and that because of pollution had to sink deep wells and purchase Des Plaines city water.

Attorney Frank P. Zaleski prepared the bill for the plaintiffs. He said the stream "meanders," and though its overall length is 16 miles, it stretches only about six and one-half miles "the way the crow flies."

WELLER CREEK runs from about one-quarter mile north of the north limit of Arlington Heights and runs southeasterly through the townships of Wheeling, Elk Grove and Maine, to a merger with the Des Plaines river. It flows through all three defendant communities, though in Arlington Heights it is completely encased in drains. Not more than two feet in width near its source, the creek broadens out in some points to a distance of about 20 feet from bank to bank.

Zaleksi waxed almost poetic in preparing the legal document, at one point referring to the past when for many years Weller Creek passed through a farming area, and its waters were used for both human and animal drinking and farm drainage. The water, the bill declared, "was clear and clean" with many plants and fish. It has existed "from time immemorial."

THE ATTORNEY said that earlier this year his clients were sued for an injunction by the Weller Creek Drainage District, alleging that Himel built seven dams on the creek and was causing washouts on nearby railroad tracks.

The matter was called before Superior Court Judge John J. Lupe, and Himel's attorney asked leave to file a counterclaim, Zaleski said. This was to have been the present suit against the three communities and the drainage districts, but the suit was then dropped.

Himel's present action is scheduled to hearing by Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington. No date has yet been set, but the defendants must reply by Nov. 21st.

It was not a clean job at Arlington Hi

Perpetrators of the above mess "collected" $95 for their trouble. Steel vault door, brick and plaster did not keep them away from the coin boxes containing school activitiy funds.

Style show to aid Youth building

Youth-Education building fund of St. Peter Lutheran church, will benefit from a style show November 8 at high school auditorium. Participating will be models from a state street store, and its orchestra. Creations to be displayed will come from the popular priced departments up to the exclusive '28' shop.

The show being sponsored by the Dorcas Aid has the personal attention of the store's own special events director, Miss Jean Scott.

The auditorium will accomodate 1,000 persons and the demand for tickets is expected to be so great that they should be purchased in advance. Call Mrs. Roland Bolte, Arl. Hts. 569-J.

Crash vault to reach money boxes at Arlington Hi

When Janitor Stan Woznick of Arlington Heights high school began his rounds Saturday morning he discovered that the vault in the principal's office had been forcibly entered. A number of change boxes were strewed about the room in the midst of the plaster and broken bricks.

The intruders failed to force the vault door, but with the use of a crowbar smashed the brickwork sufficiently to be able to reach the interior and remove the boxes containing $95.42.

Less than a dollar was taken from a box in the chemistry department. An inside job is suspected because of the evident familiarity of the visitors to the school and use of school adhesive tape on windows.

The school rooms were well secured and the visitors had to pass through a number of locked doors.

Entrance was first gained through a window in the machine shop through which an electric light wire passed. After breaking a door glass, the tool room was their first stop where they "armed" themselves with a heavy hammer, a 36 inch pinch bar, several punches, small chisels, Westcock wrench, and hack saws.

Entrance to the principal's office was gained through the east door of that room where they applied 1½ inch tape to the glass before breaking it.

The door handle and combination were sawed off the vault door and pins in the hinges were driven out, but they were unable to open the door. The attack on the masonry followed.

WHEELING SCHOOL was entered ten days ago. The intruders gained entrance by breaking a steel screen and entered the principal's office where they attempted to rifle the drawer of a filing cabinet in which school funds were usually kept.

Entrance was also forced into the projection room of the gymnasium, but loss was confined to damages to building and equipment.

ELA SCHOOL in Lake Zurich was also broken into Tuesday night. The culprits entered the building through the basement, acquired janitors' tools, then broke into the Coke and candy machines, and other places looking for money.

Only twelve dollars was taken, but plenty of other damage was done to the property. Lake county sheriff's police are investigating.

At Medinah school, a group of 20-year-old youths confessed this week to breaking 14 windows, plus damaging and breaking windows in a gas station, a tavern, and several homes.

Architect to outline features of new building

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, principal of Arlington Heights Township high school, has issued invitations to all parents and friends of the high school to come to the open house which will be held tonight, Thursday, at 8:15 o'clock. The invitation was included in the first letter of a series of four which will be sent to parents during the school year to give them a brief picture of school events and plans.

The open house will begin with a program in the auditorium. Elmer F. Laurin, president of the Board of Education, will welcome the parents and friends and will introduce Carl M. Teutsch, architect, who will outline features of the new building.

PRINCIPAL KNOEPPEL will then discuss some of the plans for the future, after which Reuben Conrad, curriculum director, will explain the common learnings courses which are being taught for the first time at Arlington high this year. Following these addresses, the Madrigal Singers, under the direction of James Cockrum, will present several numbers in the A cappella style of the Elizabethan period.

After the program, parents and friends will visit the different classrooms and teachers for a brief social period after which refreshments will be served in the cafeteria. Members of the National Honor Society will serve as guides during the evening.

The Public Relations committee in charge of the open house consists of: Mrs. Hazel Faulkner, chairman; and Miss Patricia Potts, Mrs. Gertrude O'Connor, Mrs. Sue Lenard, Wallace Grace, Frederick Schmoyer, James Cockrum, John Griffeth, and Theodore Seiler.

Personal property tax delinquents to receive court summonses soon

The Cook county treasurer is publishing this week the list of delinquent real estate taxes. Up to the present time, no attempt has been made by that office to publish a list of those who have not paid their personal property taxes. However the office of the state's attorney has placed such a list with Wm. Weber, Wheeling township justice of the peace.

Mr. Weber, as a courtesy to local residents, sent out notices of the tax claims the past four weeks. The zero hour has arrived when he must issue summons for those who have not contacted him.

Constables expect fees for papers served by them and such costs will necessarily be added to the claims. Mr. Weber hopes that few court writs will be necessary.

C&NW cancels 5 trains due to coal strike

Chicago and North Western railroad was forced to cancel five trains serving commuters between Crystal Lake and Chicago due to the present coal strike.

Trains from Chicago taken off are: 9:52 a. m. to Crystal Lake, except Sunday; and 2:25 p. m. to Barrington, except Saturday and Sunday.

Trains to Chicago cancelled are: 11:49 a. m. from Crystal Lake, except Saturday and Sunday; 12:02 p. m. from Crystal Lake, Saturday only; and 3:50 from Barrington, except Saturday and Sunday.

Annual fall pick-up of rubbish starts November 7 in Heights

Residents of Arlington Heights are urged to place their tin cans, bottles, and rubbish in containers at the street curb November 7, when the customary fall rubbish pick-up will be made by the village.

No bundles of paper or wood will be handled, nor will ashes be collected.

Containers, such as baskets or boxes, with the rubbish should be placed between the curb and sidewalk by 8 a.m. November 7.

Supt. of Public Works.

School pupils to give Arlington Heights a picturesque Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en will make its appearance in Arlington Heights this Saturday when the pupils of the fifth through eighth grades of all schools will put their artistic touch on store window panes throughout the village.

IN PAST years Hallowe'en has meant nothing but drudgery on the morning after for most business houses. This year the Chamber of Commerce, working in cooperation with the grade schools, has made arrangements for the youngsters to "paint the town," but in a competitive way.

Friday a committee will section off store windows and number them. Saturday morning the youngsters, who will have previously been assigned a window space, will paint them with Bon Ami in any design they desire. No names will be placed on the finished project as judging will be done according to numbers.

MEMBERS of the art study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, of which Mrs. Chester Moore is chairman, will judge the pictures during the afternoon.

Competition will be divided into two groups, seventh and eighth grades and fifth and sixth grades. Two children will work at each alloted space. There will be 13 cash awards for each group donated by the Chamber of Commerce.

Those who are not participating in this event are urged to tour the business section Saturday afternoon and view a new kind of Heights Hallowe'en made possible by "the young in heart."

Elk Tales from Elk Grove

This column is the only column representing this community in any newspaper. Since the reporter cannot call upon each family personally, as she has three small children, and the territory is large, it is up to residents to phone news items to her at Des Plaines 4025-J, or write to her at R. R. No. 2 Box 513-D, Des Plaines.

Special to Elk Grove 4-H'ers: Don't forget the Hallowe'en party tonight, Oct. 28, at Leonard Grimmer's home on Wille rd. Ghosts and Goblins will be gathering at 8:00 p. m.!

Special to all Elk Grove residents: Let's all support the Mt. Prospect Rural Fire Protection League by attending the annual dance this Saturday, Oct. 29, at Fred's Dance Hall on Rand and Foundry rds. Excellent music, and 3 special gift features—a wonderful Crosley television, combination radio and phonograph, and a mix master—plus the opportunity of meeting other members of our community.

Many of her friends will be sorry to hear that Mrs. Louis Schuttner of Oakton street has been confined to her home seriously ill.

Just learned that our good neighbors, the Merlin Kirmses, will, on or about March 1st, be leaving Willoway Farm on Oakton street for Cloverdale, Indiana where they have purchased a farm. The Kirmses have lived here for the past three years and we are certainly sorry to see them leave. We all join hands in wishing them every success in their new venture.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Behrens and Sonny spent a beautiful autumn week end at Stevens Point, Wisconsin visiting with the Ralph Flaigs the Ambrose Zyrons and the J. Ketterers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Haye are the proud parents of twin boys born Oct. 22 at the Frank Cuneo hospital, Chicago. Mrs. Haye is the daughter of the Richard Tonne's formerly of Devon rd.

The Mothers club of Elk Grove Consolidated school, held their monthly meeting last Thursday, Oct. 20. Besides the regular business meeting the annual election was held. Office holders for the coming year are: Mrs. Arthur Leonard, chairman; Mrs. Harry Wille, vice-chairman; Mrs. Russell Hullison, secretary; Mrs. Noel Foss, treasurer.

Kenneth Jacobson, son of the Kenneth Jacobsons of Devon rd., was host at a surprise birthday dinner and party October 22, his 16th birthday, with Mary Lou Kostos, Norma Hartman, Paul Gibbs and Dale Christie of Des Plaines, Paul Mueller, Elaine Hagenow of Arlington Heights, and Leonard Grimmer of Bensenville as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Busse of Oakton st., were hosts last Sunday at a "pot luck dinner" held for the family with a total of 47 attending. Among the group were the Arthur W. Busse, Fred W. Busse and Alfred H. Busse families. After an active afternoon the group spent a quiet evening enjoying some of the fine television programs provided for folks in the Chicagoland area.

Mr. Ernest F. Tagge of S. State rd. left Saturday for Worcester, Mass., where he will attend the Paul Revere Life Insurance Company's school for a week's training. Before returning home he plans to stop in Boston, Mass., for a brief visit.

RAMBLES from the INN

by JEANINE SHELKOP

Stll in the spotlight of future activities at Ramble Inn is the Halloween party next Monday night from 7:30 to 11:45 p.m. In case you're unfamiliar with this annual shindig, I'll give a few high lights.

The atmosphere of the evening will be a carnival in reality with more contests, games and fun in general than you can imagine. The best part is that you play these games "for free" and win a grand assortment of valuable prizes. How? Each member receives tickets as he enters which are used as a means of exchange. He'll use these for the dart games, bean guessing, hot dog races, bingo, fortune telling and many other concessions. Aside from prizes for these games are exciting door prizes.

The floor show at this year's party will consist of one hour, fifteen minutes of professional entertainment. This does not include the super dance band of Bob Hawley who will provide dance music throughout the evening. These are only a few pointers on the wham of a halloween party given by the Y. C. each year so set aside Monday night for an evening of laughter and gaiety.

We members of Ramble Inn wish to thank Mr. Paul Vawter and all the people working with him on the Y. C. Fund Drive.

You have shown your interest in the youth of this fine community and our Youth Center. Ramble Inn opens its doors to you with the heartiest of invitations to visit this organization at any time which has played such a prominent part in our social life.

Open house to honor national flower week

For those experiencing that sad, "gone" feeling that comes to garden lovers when frost at last has blacked out the hardiest of outdoor flowers, this invitation to them to see their sheltered cousins growing in warm greenhouses will come as both a surprise and a thrill. Next week, starting Sunday, Oct. 30, there will be open house at Busse's Flowers in Mt. Prospect and Pasvogel's Flowers, in Arlington Heights where the professional growers will be in attendance to show visitors through the big houses of glass planted with a profusion of the gorgeous blooms of the season.

The occasion for this invitation is the observance of National Flower Week, Oct. 30 to Nov. 5, an event which once yearly induces the professional growers to open their indoor gardens to the public.

Irises, mushrooms vie for limelight this week

Reports of irises blooming in the garden of Mrs. A. M. Frazier, 914 W. Elm, and of gigantic mushroom puff balls being found in the woods by Eugene Heller, 837 N. Pine, are making history in Arlington Heights this week.

Mrs. Frazier claims this is the second time her irises are blooming this year and wonders if anyone else has these early spring flowers opening up so late in the season.

The puff ball mushrooms found by Mr. Heller are believed to be the largest ever seen in this area. One was the size of a basketball, measuring 30½ inches in circumference and weighing 3 pounds 10 ounces. Another was about the size of a volley ball, and smaller ones measured about 5 inches in diameter.

According to Mr. Heller these puff balls are edible and make a mighty tasty dish. However, Paddock Publications doesn't advise its readers to go mushrooming unless they know the difference between edible and poisonous ones.

Business education dept. gets new tools

Mrs. Hazel Faulkner, head of the business education department of the Arlington Heights high school, has announced the purchases of a set of finger-dexterity tests for the department's occupational information unit and a mimeoscope with a swivel stand. Funds for the new equipment were secured from the sale of programs at football games. In addition to buying the above items, the funds from this source have paid for the checking and adjustment of the mimeograph machines in the department.

Heights Park District annual convention

Lawrence Dahlgren, Arlington Heights Park District commissioner, and Alfred Blume, superintendent of parks, will be among those attending the twenty-second annual convention of the Illinois Association of Park Districts, October 27-29.

The session will meet in the Statler hotel, St. Louis, Missouri, according to association president, Stanley McBroom, of Kankakee.

Program keynote is: "The Commissioner's Responsibility to the public in Park Operation."

The convention program was planned by the following committee: J. V. Kammer, Lombard, chairman; Norman H. Klopp, Lombard; Tom J. Montgomery and Frank M. Opeka, Des Plaines; Fred Heuchling Chicago; Thomas Paulett Granite City; and S. D. Sexton Jr. East St. Louis.

Highlight of the convention is the annual banquet scheduled to be held in the Missouri room of the Statler hotel. D. V. Fraser, president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad company, will speak on "Park District Public Relations."

At noon Friday the convention will adjourn and go to Granite City for luncheon at the Masonic Temple as guests of the Granite City Park Board. The group will later tour Wilson Park and the engineer's depot in Granite City, Venice, Madison and East St. Louis parks.

Radio show winnings are drug on market

An Arlington Heights woman made a killing on a radio show, but finds that it is more difficult to get rid of the articles she does not need than it was to win them. The too-late-to-classify ads in this issue gives the telephone number of the winner and the articles that she is offering.

Get your free entry blanks today!

If you buy a new 1950 Crosley Refrigerator during this contest and win one as a prize . . . you may elect to take the retail price of your refrigerator in cash.

JUST FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES—

1. In 50 words or less, write your reason or reasons why we should give you a new Shelvador refrigerator. Write your reasons in the space provided on the Entry Blanks—the red Entry Blank for the Crosley Local Dealers' Contest; the green Entry Blank for the Crosley National Contest.

2. Participants may enter both the Crosley Local Dealers' Contest and the Crosley National Contest. However, participants may submit only one entry in only one of the Crosley Local Dealers' Contests, and the participant may submit only one entry in the Crosley National Contest.

3. Both of the Entry Blanks to be obtained at no cost from Crosley Appliance dealers. The green Entry Blank for the National Contest from any Crosley Dealer, the red Entry Blank from the local Crosley Dealer conducting a local contest.

4. Any resident of the continental United States may compete except employees of the Crosley Division of the AVCO Manufacturing Corporation, retail dealers of Crosley appliances, wholesale distributors of Crosley appliances, their advertising agencies and their families. Contest subject to all federal, state, and local regulations.

5. All entries on the red Entry Blanks for the Crosley Local Dealers' Contest must be delivered before December 1, 1949, to the Crosley Dealer from whom the entry was obtained.

6. All entries on either the red blank for the local contest or the green blank for the national contest that are mailed, must be postmarked before midnight, November 30, 1949.

7. Mail or deliver in person your red Entry Blank for the Crosley Local Dealers' Contest to the Crosley Dealer from whom the Entry Blank was obtained. Mail the green Entry Blank for the National Crosley Contest to: Betty Olson, Director of Home Economics, Crosley Division, AVCO Manufacturing Corp., Box 1538, Cincinnati, Ohio.

8. Entries will be judged and prizes will be awarded for originality, sincerity and aptness of thought. Judges' decision will be final. Duplicate prizes will be awarded in case of ties. No entries will be returned. Entries, contents and ideas therein become the property of the Crosley Division, AVCO Manufacturing Corporation.

9. All winners will be notified by mail, phone or telegram. A list of the winners of the Crosley National Contest will be available on request from Crosley Division, AVCO Manufacturing Corporation, 1329 Arlington St., Cincinnati 25, Ohio, approximately two months after the close of the contest.

Bowling News

Public school education is not "school house bound." The boys and girls of the Arlington Heights public schools take advantage of every opportunity to gain first hand information from their environment by making school trips, tours and excursions.

Educators have discovered that field trips which are well planned and purposeful, effectively interpret, enrich and supplement our curricular experiences.

OCTOBER 13, the seven one social studies class of the North school made a trip to the Field Museum and Shedd Aquarium in Chicago. The trip was made in connection with a study of the industrial cities of the world.

The nearness of Chicago made it convenient to place the major emphasis of the study on its growth and development. Since Chicago is one of the largest industrial cities in the world, it was felt that an understanding of the reasons for its development would provide an understanding of the other industrial cities of the world.

The class divided into committees and studied the city from the economic, social, and cultural standpoints. Since the Field Muesum of Natural History is one of the first four scientific museums of the world and represents a value of more than $50,000,000, the pupils decided that they would like to visit its departments of anthropology and geology.

MISS MARTHA SAPP planned and coordinated the trip. Mr. Soper, seventh grade teacher, and Mrs. Charles Stadelman accompanied the children on the tour of the museum. In addition to showing the children the aforementioned departments, the guide took the group on a general tour of the museum.

After visiting the museum the group went to the John G. Shedd Aquarium which is the largest and most completely equipped aquarium in the United States. The aquarium has a tank capacity of 500,000 gallons and presents an opportunity of viewing and studying the most comprehensive collection of live aquatic animals ever exhibited.

Authorities agree that a carefully planned, well thought out field trip which is correlated with the curriculum is definitely a worth while educational opportunity.

High school launches magazine drive today

Frederick Schmoyer, band director at the high school, has announced the following home room captains to head the magazine drive being launched today, Thursday.

Senior captains are Ronald Anderson, Joan Dempsey, Connie Johnson, Dave Kurtz, Pearl McDonald, Bob Neumann, Betty Jean Milligan, Max Deethardt, Bonnie Peterson and Vernon Wandersee.

Junior captains are John Coleman, Judy Gassen, Joyce LaBantsching, Jim Lee, Alice Simroe, Ron Tosman, Dan Uhlhorn, Nancy Weir, and Ed Munson.

Sophomore captains are Priscilla Brif, Fred Borgardt, Sandra George, Judy Gilman, Laurence Johnson, Phil Knoeppel, Joan Peterson, Betty Probstle, Robert Runge, Leslie Tollefson, and Dan Walton.

Freshman captains are Nancy Boettcher, Bob Cummisford, Don Gronert, Chris Kent, Darlene Maierhofer, Alice Rindlisbacher, Joanne Shelkop, and Audrey Wahl.

OLEN MURDOCK, of the Curtis Publishing Co., appeared before the student body today and announced detailed plans for the campaign. Prizes are to be given each day to the home room handing in the highest total of sales, to the individual handing in the highest total of sales, and to the lucky individual whose name is drawn from the grab bag containing the names of all students who have sold one subscription that day.

In addition, a prize is to be given to the class (senior, junior, sophomore, or freshman) who have totalled the highest sales at the end of the campaign November 7.

In addition to the Curtis publications, subscriptions will be sold or renewed to "Life," "McCalls," "Time," and "Popular Mechanics."

THE CURTIS publications include, among others: American Girl, Argosy, Atlantic Monthly, Boy's Life, Calling All Girls, Catholic Digest, Child Life, Coronet, Cosmopolitan, Country Gentleman, Esquire, Flower-Grower, Good Housekeeping, Harpers', Holiday, Jack and Jill, Ladies Home Journal, Look, Magazine Digest, Parent's Magazine, Saturday Evening Post, and the Saturday Review of Literature.

As the school plans to alternate sales each year between the Curtis publications and the Crowell publications, two-year subscriptions are being emphasized. If there is any surplus money after the new Madrigal costumes and the additional choir robes and band uniforms are purchased, it is planned to start a fund for a concert grand piano for the new stage.

Arlington Heights high school teachers attend meetings, conferences

Miss Mary S. Handlin, head of the homemaking department at the Arlington Heights high school, and Miss Marian Diehl homemaking instructor, will attend the meeting of the Vocational Education association to be held at the LaSalle hotel, October 27. Miss Handlin will be a participant in one of the panel discussions, "Providing Experiences to Help Pupils Develop Respect for Children as Persons." Both of the local instructors will also be present at the meeting of the Illinois Home Economics Association at the LaSalle hotel October 28 and 29. Miss Handlin is the treasurer of this organization.

Miss Patricia Potts, dramatic coach of the high school, attended the School Broadcasting Conference at the Sherman hotel October 26 and 27. The conference lectures and discussions were centered around radio workshops for high school groups. Miss Potts is director of the high school radio class which will resume broadcasting "Cardinals on the Air" over WEAW in the near future.

Miss Hazel Beverly, girls' counselor at the high school, attended the monthly dinner meeting of the Suburban Deans' Association at the College club in Chicago, October 22. Miss Beverly was named as a member of the planning committee for the annual spring conference of the Girls' club of all suburban schools. In addition to outlining the general set-up for the conference, plans were inaugurated to add to the available counseling services by listing and evaluating non-academic vocational training opportunities in the Chicago area.

Miss Alma Leonhard, head of the English department at the high school, and Miss Hazel Beverly, girls' counselor and English instructor, will attend the annual meeting of the Illinois Association of Teachers of English to be held at the University of Illinois October 29.

Jesse Stuart, author of "Man with a Bull-Tongue Plow," "Taps for Private Tussie," "Tree of Heaven," and "Men of the Mountain" will deliver the main address.

Customers' Corner

Is it wrong for us to give you more good food for your money?

Is it wrong for you to shop at our stores if by so doing you will make our business grow?

Apparently the Anti Trust Lawyers, who are trying to put A&P out of business, think so.

Apparently the American people don't agree with the Anti Trust Lawyers, for many, many thousands of them are writing and saying:

"We like A&P and we don't want them put out of business."

Woman's Association elects officers

A spaghetti luncheon served by Circle No. 2 preceded the regular meeting of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, Oct. 19. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. George Rose, president; Mrs. Richard Frasier, first vice-president; Mrs. Andrew Sim, second vice-president; Mrs. Forrest Tracy, third vice-president; Mrs. C. W. Mills, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Black, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Irving Tesch, treasurer.

"We Saw It First Hand" was the title of Mrs. Victor Brown's illustrated lecture on a tour of missions stations in the southwest.

Heights science dept. praised by Niles school

Nelson Lowry, head of the science department at Arlington Heights Township high school, and Marian Diehl, Robert Kemman, Alvin Kulieke, and John Schaff, science instructors, were hosts to a group of administrators and instructors of science from Niles Township science department on the afternoon of October 20.

The science department of the local high school has acquired an enviable reputation for the worth of its revised curriculum and for the modernity of its class rooms in the new addition which were opened for classes one year ago.

The visitors, who are planning to remodel their own department in the near future, were loud in their praises of the durability and convenience of the new tables, of the abundance of storage space, and the effectiveness of the fluorescent lighting. They also admired the general attractiveness of the classrooms, featured by three color tones in each room. After the tour of the greenhouse and the biology, chemistry, and physics laboratories, refreshments were served by Miss Marian Diehl, biology and homemaking instructor.

OES leaders give dinner party for officers

Mrs. Loretta Kring, Worthy Matron, and Howard Voss, Worthy Patron, gave a dinner party for the officers of the Arlington Heights chapter No. 992 OES and their escorts. The dinner was held at Behm's in Wheeling.

In appreciation of the cooperation received this past year, the leaders presented the officers with lovely gifts.

Cards were played later in the evening, and prizes were awarded to the winners.

Tickets available for Sunday lecture series

Tickets are still available for the Sunday Evening Lecture Series sponsored by the Arlington Heights Woman's club.

Cornelia Otis Skinner who will give her well known monologue character sketches, will be on the first program this season, November 13. Miss Skinner is a famous author, playwright, actress and producer. She has been called the greatest single attraction of the American theatre.

Max K. Gilstrap will appear on the second program January 8. He is chief of the Midwest Bureau, Christian Science Monitor, and was the editor of "Stars and Stripes" and "Yank" during the last war.

Burton Holmes, pioneer in motion picture travel lectures, will be on the third and last program March 12. All three programs will be held at the Arlington Heights high school at 8 p. m.

Mrs. J. A. Lindstrom, ticket chairman, 1433-W, may be contacted for tickets. Mrs. William E. Sauer is chairman of the lecture series.

Slichenmyer vice-pres. of Illinois Guidance and Personnel association

H. L. Slichenmyer, administrative assistant at the high school was elected vice-president of the Illinois Guidance and Personnel Association at its annual conference at James Millikin university in Decatur October 22. Other officers are: president, Leo Bent, director of Student Personnel services at Bradley university, Peoria; secretary, Lois Nelson, Dean of Girls at Danville high school; and treasurer, Helen Thompson, Dean of Girls at Danville high school.

The meeting was highlighted by an address by Professor S. A. Hanrin, of Northwestern university on "Fundamentals of Guidance Services." Group discussion meetings in the afternoon featured special problems of guidance techniques, tests and measurements, problems of counseling, and cumulative records. Miss Hazel Beverly, girls' counselor, and H. L. Slichenmyer were among the four hundred members who attended the meeting.

bazaar and bake sale

The annual bazaar and bake sale sponsored by the Ladies Aid of St. Peter's Lutheran church of Schaumburg will be held November 6 in the West School basement starting at 1:30 p.m. A barbecue and cake and pie lunch will be served all afternoon.

Seek radio

A brown plastic table model radio, with an electric clock mounted in the left hand side of the case and tuning dial on the right, disappeared out of A. M. Conger's office in the Kelling building, Arlington Heights, Wednesday noon, October 19. Owner requests return of same.

Canada visitor

For the past two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Troup have been entertaining visitors, William Chalmer and Miss Lola Troup of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Student home for week end

Paul Ransdell, sophomore at the University of Illinois, was home this past week end to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ransdell of N. Chicago ave.

Sunday dinner guests

Sunday evening dinner guests at the Wilbert Pates' home were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Raymond of Evanston, former residents of Sherwood.

Guests at Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Troups' home Sunday were a cousin, Mrs. E. J. Brady, and an aunt, Mrs. J. A. Strassen, who joined the family in honoring Mr. Troup at a birthday dinner.

Visiting the neighbors

Week end guest of the James Wood family last week was Miss Mildred Wood of Champaign, Ill., aunt of Mr. Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman entertained their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stone and daughter, Jeanne, of Peoria, Ill., last week end.

Neighbors go visiting

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mueller were in Grand Rapids, Mich., this week for a short stay. Mr. Mueller's parents from Crystal Lake took care of the three youngsters while they were away.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ritter returned Sunday from a four day trip to Springfield, Mo., where Mr. Ritter attended a business show.

Attend ice show

In honor of Jimmy Drew's seventh birthday Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Drew took Jimmy and his sister, Sheila, to the matinee performance of the Ice Follies last Saturday.

Birthday party

Sixteen children came to Diane Dove's fourth birthday party last Saturday afternoon. The children were entertained with games and movies.

Kenny Witt took his birthday cake to school Wednesday on his seventh birthday to share with the other second graders at the North school. There was a family party for Kenny Wednesday evening.

More birthdays

Herbert Aurnhammer of N. Patton will celebrate his birthday today with his family.

Robert Haase, 14, observed his birthday this month.

Visit Northernaire

Mr. and Mrs. Quinten Lambert were week end guests recently of the Northernaire Hotel in Three Lakes, Wis., by invitation of the owner, Carl Marty, Jr.

Library to close Saturdays at 6 p. m.

Beginning November 5th the library will close at 6 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock on Saturdays. The other hours remain the same.

Woman's club to hear Miniature operetta

"Bittersweet," by Noel Coward, will be given in the form of a miniature operetta by Miss Olive O'Neil at the Reciprocity Day meeting of the Arlington Heights Woman's club. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the South school, Arlington Heights, November 2, at 1:30 p. m. The change of meeting place should be noted.

Miss O'Neil has written all the scripts and arranged the music for her new idea in concert which she calls "Miniature Operetta." The program will be a complete musical play in costume.

Miss O'Neil is a graduate of the Cosmopolitan School of Music and Dramatic Art in Chicago.

Her tours throughout the States have been enthusiastically received.

Invitations to the reciprocity Day meeting have been sent to all clubs in the Seventh district. Mrs. George Tuttle, president of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, will preside over the meeting. Introductory music will be played by Mrs. F. C. Schmoyer.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. J. A. Cousins and Mrs. S. S. Davajon. Mrs. Lewis Wills is program chairman and Mrs. LeRoy Knoeppel, vice chairman.

Art Study Group

The new Art study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club will meet on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at the field house at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Wm. N. Walton is in charge of the group, and the members will do their first work in pastels. Anyone desiring information regarding this class should call Mrs. Chester Moore, chairman.

Seventh District President Speaks

Mrs. George F. Gschwindt, seventh district president of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, will appear on the "High Neighbor" radio program at 10:45 a. m., October 28, over WAAF, 960 on the dial. Mrs. J. C. Fedderson, radio chairman of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, requests that all club members listen.

Wilson School Community News

At the request of Mrs. Magnussen of the Wilson school, Chief Carl Skoog permitted Officer Oscar Johnson to spend an hour and a half last week instructing the children of the school in safety measures. He gave them a practical demonstration of the two-way radio. The teachers of the Wilson school and the parents of the children wish to thank both Chief Skoog and Officer Johnson. Efforts are being made to organize a patrol system, and Officer Johnson has offered to assist in any way possible.

Mrs. Howard Elliott is in Palatine hospital, recovering from an operation performed last Thursday.

An attempt is being made to organize a committee to solicit funds for the Arlington Heights Youth Center in this community. Children of this section can avail themselves of all activities in the Youth Center.

Mrs. Andrew Wallor left Sunday morning for Defiance, Ohio, to visit her aunt, Miss Carrie Reynolds, who is very ill.

Dorothy Brehm, Robert Firnbach wed recently

Miss Dorothy Brehm, daughter of Mrs. Phillip Brehm of 507 N. Haddow, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Robert Firnbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Firnbach of Buffalo Grove, October 22, at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Joseph Firnbach of Buffalo Grove, the groom's uncle, officiated at the ceremony held at St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights. Sister M. Amabilia and the school choir provided the nuptial music.

At noon, a dinner was given for the immediate family at the Chicago House, and a dinner reception was given for 300 guests at 7 o'clock at St. Mary's school hall, Buffalo Grove.

The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed in lace, with a long train, and a finger-tip veil attached to a satin band headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and ivy. Her brother, Raymond Brehm of Jefferson Park, gave her in marriage.

Miss Florence Brehm of Arlington Heights, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a sea foam green satin gown and carried a garland of pale pink feathered carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Lorraine Brehm of Jefferson Park and Miss Jeanette Allen of Oak Park. They also wore sea foam green satin gowns and carried deep pink feathered carnation garlands.

Richard Firnbach of Buffalo Grove, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Raymond Brehm, brother of the bride of Arlington Heights, and Jerome Weidner of Palatine.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to the Ozarks, and will be at home at 312 N. Douglas upon their return.

Stork feathers

A boy, Monte Martin, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, Box 282, Arlington Hts., October 9, at St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. The baby weighed 8 pounds 6 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Haase of 1113 N. Harvard, Arlington Hts. announce the birth of a daughter, Deborah Jean, born October 14 at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, weighing 5 pounds 13 ounces. The baby has two brothers, Ricky, 9, and Robert, 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brinkman, Jr., of Freeman rd., Palatine, announce the birth of their daughter, Bonnie Jean born October 25, at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. The baby weighed 7 pounds 10 ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brinkman, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marquardt.

Cigars were being passed out October 24 by Ray Gaitsch of Des Plaines, whose wife presented him with a son that day. The little boy was born at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, where he tipped the scales at 5 pounds 13 ounces. He has been named David Will. Dave's daddy is well known in this area as he gives guitar lessons, working in connection with the El-Rey Studio, 5709 Irving Park rd. Mrs. Gaitsch is the former Betty Fabian of Des Plaines.

St. Peter church to observe Reformation Day October 30

Members and friends of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will observe Reformation Day, which annually falls on October 31, by gathering in the church building to see colored slides depicting the life and labors of Martin Luther, the great reformer. The service will take place October 30, at 7:30 p.m. Pastor Stephan will lecture along with the showing of the slides. The public is invited to attend.

AAUW Travel study group investigates Scandinavia

Though not the most popular of tourist lands, the Scandinavian countries offer rich and interesting study, members of the Travel Study group of Northwest Suburban branch, A. A. U. W. have found.

An entire club year will be devoted to an exploration of the culture and physiography of Norway, Sweden and Denmark, according to Mrs. George Bailey, chairman.

Meetings are held every fourth Tuesday at 1:15 p. m. at the home of a member. Membership in American Association of University Women is not necessary—all interested women in the Northwest suburban area are invited to participate.

At the October 25 meeting Mrs. Bailey reviewed physiography and industry of the countries Mrs. G. M. Hess entertained the group at her Des Plaines home.

November 29 two speakers will preside. Mrs. F. J. Knight will detail the political government of each of the Scandinavian countries, and Mrs. Harry Dooley will discuss modern economics in the countries.

People and customs, art and architecture, literature, language and music will be discussion topics for future meetings.

Schiffs have 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schiff of Palatine rd., Arlington Heights, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary October 15 with a dinner and dance for 150 guests at Hankel's hall, 2328 Foster ave., Chicago. Mrs. Schiff wore a blue gown and an orchid.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Schiff are 72 years old, and were married in 1899 at Mzrschra, Hungary.

The dinner dance was given for them by their three daughters, Mrs. Tillie Wirth, Mrs. Elizabeth Joanowitz and Mrs. Catherine Hedinger. Mr. and Mrs. Schiff have four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The grandchildren made two horns of plenty lined with gold paper which were filled with coins wrapped in gold colored paper. A nephew made a heart-shaped center-piece outlined with gold leaves and gold wrapped coins. A large gold wedding ring was suspended in the center of the heart and supported a model of a bride and groom.

The Schiffs received many beautiful gifts. They have been residents of Arlington Heights for the past ten years.

Presbyterian church to hold family night November 1

The First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, invites all church members and friends to a dinner and an evening of fellowship and entertainment on Family night, Nov. 1, at 6:30 p. m., at the church. Tickets, which may be purchased from any member of the Woman's association, are one dollar for adults and 50 cents for children ten and under.

Immediately following the dinner the evening program will be given in the gym. Highlight of the entertainment will be the showing of Rev. Victor Brown's colored slides which were taken last summer on a caravan tour of the Southwest. Members will have a first-hand view of the work of the Presbyterian National Missions and will see many of the scenic beauties of the Southwest.

At 8:10 p. m. the film, "And Now I See," will be shown. It is a dramatic story of the life of a small family in an American church. Ralph Morgan plays the leading role in this religious film.

All children under six years of age will see special films shown for them in the nursery. All children six years and above may see the colored slides and the religious film with the adults.

PTA child study group to hear children's opinions on discipline

What children think of parents' and teachers' ways of handling disobedience and punishment will be the subject of the PTA Child Study group meeting November 3, at 8 p.m., at the South school, Arlington Heights.

An American Broadcasting Co. transcription, with children speaking frankly to Helen Parker, child psychologist, will be heard. After the transcription, all parents will be invited to take part in the general discussion that is to follow.

Faith church Ladies Society to sponsor rummage sale

The Ladies Society of Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Hts., will sponsor a rummage sale to be held November 5, at 11 S. State rd., in the basement store, starting at 9:30 a. m.

Children give show to benefit polio fund

A show to benefit the polio fund was put on by the children of four families who live on N. Dunton st., Arlington Hts. last Saturday afternoon. The children who planned the show and participated in it are: David Fellingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fellingham; Arlene Heiss; daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Heiss; Celia Ann and Linda Close, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Close, and Jane Schafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schafer.

The show was given in the Fellingham's basement at 3 o'clock, and the price of admission was 10 cents. The admission price included refreshments, which consisted of popcorn and lemonade. About 35 children attended the performance.

There were three or four dancing acts and a magician act. Mrs. Milton Daniels read a few stories, and Mr. Fellingham showed some children's movies.

The basement was decorated in Halloween style, and there was a hobby exhibit which was arranged by the children. Programs, which the youngsters printed themselves, were handed out.

The proceeds from the show amounted to $3.55, and the money was turned over to the polio fund. The children should be commended for their efforts in this worthwhile activity for such an important and urgent cause.

Delta Gamma Phi to elect officers 50th anniversary

Delta Gamma Phi, women's social sorority of Arlington Hts., will elect new officers at their semi-annual meeting to be held Saturday, October 29, in the Sarah Siddons Walk at the Ambassador East Hotel.

Mrs. Douglas Smith, outgoing president, will preside at the luncheon meeting. Following the business session, Neysa Smith, well-known astrologist, will speak before the group.

FAVORITES For FLAVOR

by GARNELL DOVE

Mrs. Carl Skoog, wife of the chief of police of Arlington Hts., gives us two of her family favorites today, Anna potatoes and Porkupines.

"Like topsy, they just growed," she laughed. "I'm always looking for different ways to fix meat and potatoes, and these two recipes have been around so long that I haven't any idea where they came from, but they are so good."

Laura Skoog, busy mother of four children, George 13, Doris 15, Carol 16, and Carl Jr., 18, likes to cook everything. She insists that she and her children have no food favorites, they like everything! The chief? "Well, he kind of leans toward pancakes, french toast and spaghetti," smiled Laura. "But everyone knows how to fix those," she said as she pulled two recipes out of her file for us.

Here are two of the Skoog family's favorites which will turn "picky" eaters into downright enthusiasts. The potatoes are a luscious golden brown when done and the porkupines have little quills of rice poking out and look like real porcupines.

Anna Potaoes

Cut 6 medium sized potatoes into round slices, not too thick, wash off in water. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a small baking pan. Put in a layer of potatoes, sprinkle with salt, pepper and butter, another layer of potatoes and more salt, pepper and pour 2 tablespoons melted butter over top. Bake in medium heated oven until delicately browned, about 1½ hours.

Porkupines

4 tbs. drippings or oil
1 medium size onion, chopped
1 medium size green pepper (optional)
1 pound hamburger or left-over meat ground
1 cup mashed potatoes
1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper
½ cup uncooked rice
1 egg, 1 cup water
1 can tomato soup

Saute the onion and pepper in the oil about five minutes. Remove from fire add to meat, potatoes and rice and mix thoroughly. Add egg and mix again. Shape into patties and place in covered roaster, mix water and tomato soup, pour over patties, cover and bake one hour, 375 degrees.

Nurse's club to hold Hallowe'en party Friday

The Arlington Heights Nurse's club will meet at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Chambers, 311 Bristol Lane, for a Halloween party October 28. Members are requested to come in costumes, and prizes will be awarded for the most original costumes.

Gilbert Grandt, Elvira Piepenbrink say "I do"

Large baskets of chrysanthemums and pom pons decorated the altar of St. Paul Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect, and formed the setting for the wedding of Miss Elvira Piepenbrink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Piepenbrink of Mt. Prospect, and Gilbert A. Grandt of the U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Grandt of Wheeling, October 16.

Rev. J. E. A. Mueller officiated at the ceremony and a trio consisting of Carol and Jean Faulstich and Marge Petersen sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by E. R. Jackisch.

The bride's gown was of white satin with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and beaded bodice. An orange blossom crown held the finger tip veil in place. She wore a three strand pearl necklace, a gift from the groom, and caried a bouquet of white roses with a white orchid in the center.

Miss Lorraine Grandt, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a blue velvet gown with a matching headpiece.

Miss Vernette Goebbert, bridesmaid, was gowned in a fuchsia velvet and Miss Anita Hagenow, cousin of the bride, wore a chartreuse velvet gown.

All of the attendants carried bouquets of pink roses and wore necklaces and ear rings which were gifts from the bride.

Marvin Gaitsch was the best man, and Harvey Grandt, brother of the groom, and Clarence Piepenbrink, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a dark royal blue gown and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother was gowned in a green crepe dress, and also wore a corsage of pink roses.

A wedding reception for 400 guests was held at St. Mary's school hall in Buffalo Grove. Mrs. Grandt will reside at 120 S. Owen st., Mt. Prospect, while Mr. Grandt continues his army training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

New chairmen elected by Newcomer's club

Newly appointed chairmen of the Newcomer's club, Arlington Heights, explained their various duties to the group at the regular monthly meeting held last Thursday.

The chairmen are: Mrs. Sigmund Hollinger, membership; Mrs. William Iman, hostess; Mrs. Harold Cheney, Educational; Mrs. William Fisher, program; Mrs. J. T. Goodrich, publicity; Mrs. Edward Bastedo, sunshine; Mrs. Jay Barker, hobby, and Mrs. Leon Paul, transportation.

During this month the club, which was organized in September, will stress a membership drive, and all those interested in becoming a member should call Mrs. Hollinger, 2139-J, for information.

The next scheduled meeting is December 1, at 8 p.m., in the field house. There will not be a meeting in November because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

St. John's bazaar at field house today

The St. John's Episcopal church bazaar will be held at the Arlington Heights field house today. Doors will open at 9 a.m., and many articles that can be purchased as Christmas gifts will be on sale.

American Legion Auxiliary notes

The Merle Guild Unit No. 208, American Legion Auxiliary, Arlington Heights, will hold a business meeting at Legion hall November 1, at 8 p. m.

A rummage sale sponsored by the Auxiliary will be held at Legion hall November 5, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. Anyone wishing to have rummage collected should call Arlington Heights 604 or 1824-W before November 4.

City orchestra at style show

A spectacular event of the fall season in this area will be the fashion show to be given by Marshall Field & Co. Tuesday, November 8, at 8 p. m. in Arlington Heights Township high school auditorium. Sponsoring the style show is the Dorcas Aid of St. Peter Lutheran church of Arlington Heights. Over 1000 ladies are expected to be present for the occasion.

On hand to see that the fashion show runs smoothly will be the store's own special events director, Miss Jean Scott. She is especially experienced in the proper execution of style shows and in the selection of lovely creations which are as breath-taking as Marshall Field's 18 lovely models who will wear them.

To the accompaniment of the store's orchestra, costumes will be shown from the Young Chicago Shop, House and Town, Moderate Priced department, the Fur Salon, as well as the fabulous gowns from the Twenty-Eight Shop. Both styles for the young teen-age or high school crowd as well as for other age groups will be modeled.

Also appearing on the program by arrangement of the Dorcas Aid following the Marshall Field demonstration will be Pauline Esdale, the Whistline Poetess.

This is a special benefit program, and the proceeds will flow into the Youth-Education Building Fund of St. Peter Lutheran church. Tickets may be purchased for one dollar from any member of the sponsoring group or by calling Mrs. Roland Boite, A. H. 569-J.

Robert Albrecht takes Betty Goebbert as bride

Community Camera

At a 7 o'clock ceremony in St. John's church, Elk Grove, Miss Betty Ann Goebbert became the bride of Robert D. Albrecht, October 22. Rev. F. L. Gehrs officiated at the ceremony, and Robert Langgreth sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Goebbert of S. State rd., Arlington Heights, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Albrecht of Park Ridge.

The bride's gown was of white satin with a lace bodice, and her headpiece was a bonnet of lace attached to a fingertip veil. She wore a strand of pearls which was a gift from the groom, and carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Ellen Ruth Kastning, sister of the bride, wore a gold satin gown with a Chinese collar and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow pomps, bronze mums and ivy. The bridesmaids, Miss Virginia Lee Goebbert, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruth Albrecht, sister of the groom, wore emerald green satin gowns.

Miss Emily Louise Kastning of Arlington Heights, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a gold satin dress with a pearl necklace and bracelet and carried a basket of yellow mums. James Lumb of Chicago, a nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer. He carried a pillow that was used at the bride's parents' wedding 25 years ago.

The groom's brother, John Albrecht of Chicago, was his best man. The ushers were Donald Wente of Palatine, and Harvey Kastning of Arlington Heights.

A reception for 300 guests was held at the schoolhouse on Higgins and Touhy avenues immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's mother wore a taupe colored dress, and the groom's mother wore a navy blue dress. Each had a corsage of rubrum lilies.

After a trip around Lake Michigan, the newlyweds will be at home on Elmhurst rd. and Oakton st., Des Plaines.

Arlene Nagel honored at 6 bridal showers recently

Miss Arlene Nagel of Maywood, formerly of Arlington Heights, was honored at six bridal showers recently. The first shower was combined with a family reunion the Sunday before Labor Day. Two cousins, Mrs. Dorothy Kamlah and Mrs. Bertha Nolting, were co-hostesses.

In Milwaukee, Miss Nagel and her fiance, Karl Schnake of Melrose Park, were surprised by Mr. Schnake's relatives at a kitchen shower September 16.

Mrs. M. R. Kluender of Maywood was hostess October 8 at a luncheon for 11 guests at a personal shower given in Arlene's honor. The following day Miss Gert Hinz, Miss Norna Nightengale and Miss Harriet Fricke of Arlington Heights were hostesses at another shower. Twenty-five guests were present.

Friends and relatives attended a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Emil Schnake of Melrose Park, October 14. A surprise shower was given by Mrs. Elaine Hahne and Miss Betty Ruth Bohlmann of Maywood Oct. 19, and friends from Maywood and Melrose Park were present.

Arlene and Karl will be married October 29, at 5 p. m., at St. Paul Lutheran church, Melrose Park, where Arlene has served as secretary the past three years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Nagel of Arlington Heights.

Circling the Town

by PHYLLIS KNIGHT

From the looks of things, Arlington women aren't going to have to stray far from home to do their Christmas shopping. First, of course, the local merchants have greater variety and more complete stocks than ever before. And then there are the bazaars!

Many an organization has found a bazaar to be an advantageous way both to fill their treasuries and to make new friends by selling novel and useful items. Led off by last week's affair sponsored by the Friendly circle of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, the bazaar season is really getting underway. Yesterday the Dorcas aid of St. Peter Lutheran church sponsored theirs, and today the Evening Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect are sponsoring an especially elaborate sale at the field house. A doll house, complete to the last detail, is being given away, and there's still time to pay this bazaar a visit—it'll be going on all day and evening.

Two more bazaars in the offing are those of the Nurse's club and of the Faith Ladies society. The former will take place at the field houes on November 10 from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. The latter is labeled third annual "Christmas bazaar" and will be held on November 30, also at the field house. The sale itself starts at 2 p. m., but the ladies will serve luncheon starting at 1 p. m.

Yes, it looks like the clubs and organizations of the village know a good thing when they see it—and the villagers know a good sale, too, for these bazaars are notably well-patronized.

How come?

Arlington is getting to be a big town. It's an up-and-coming town, and it's a town that prides itself on having just about the best of everyhing.

Its Chamber of Commerce is on the ball, as witness the street circus they plan in order to help inaugurate the Christmas season. The Woman's club is truly civic minded. Our schools are of the best.

And when this town wants something, it goes after it. For instance, a group of citizen-leaders felt a youth center was needed and the rest of the villagers agreed; hence we have our fine youth center.

Why, then, we wondered, with a village as progressive as ours, is a service that appears to be needed threatened with oblivion because of lack of interest? We're talking about the nonsectarian nursery school which meets at the Presbyterian church. At present only 16 three and four year old boys and girls are enrolled, and that's not enough to keep it going for long.

The school can't be failing because of lack of trained leadership, for the director, Mrs. James Lambdin, is well-experienced in the work, and her assistant, Mrs. Howard Schram, is also able.

It can't be that fees are too high, for $6 for two weeks of five-day, 9 to 11:30 sessions, seems very reasonable. What's more, children don't have to enroll for a whole semester, but may enter for individual two-week sessions.

The sad query of "how would my child get there?" doesn't hold true here, either, for arrangements for transportation can be made.

And the youngsters do have fun at our nursery school. Besides, they learn to play together and to play group games, as well as learning finger painting and other artistic skills. A call to Mrs. Lambdin at 7137-W will bring full details about the Arlington Heights nursery school. While both three and four year olds are welcome, Mrs. Lambdin feels that four year olds, generally speaking, get more out of the porgram.

With an opportunity such as this in our town, for our preschool youngsters to get good training at a reasonable cost, why aren't the mothers practically beating down the doors to get the children in it?

People are talking about . . .

The Hallowe'en art contest in which our grade-schoolers will paint the windows of the local stores. Saturday morning ought to be quite a time for painters, their audience and those who are simply trying to shop!

The new Arlington Cotillion club, whose 100 couples will hold their first dance at the Mt. Prospect Country club November 5.

Christened Sunday

Wayne Edward Schennum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Schennum of Route 1, Box 289, Palatine, was baptized the afternoon of October 23 by Rev. L. V. Stephan at St. Peter Lutheran church. The sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Zander of Arlington Heights. The Schennums held an open house after the christening. Wayne was born August 23.

Sydney Brian Stephan, son of Rev. and Mrs. L. V. Stephan, was baptized at the afternoon service at St. Peter church October 23 by his father. He was born September 23, and his sponsors were Daniel Stephan, his oldest brother; Miss Edna B. Taege of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Irene Hassell of Houston, Texas. A dinner was served in honor of the occasion for the family and sponsors.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 30, will be:

"EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT"

The Golden Text is:

"The Lord is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous" (Prov. 15: 29).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon, the following are from the Bible:

"For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works" (Titus 2: 11-14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Sorrow for wrong-doing is but one step toward reform and the very easiest step. The next and great step required by wisdom is the test of our sincerity,—namely, reformation. . . . A corrupt mind is manifested in a corrupt body. Lust, malice, and all sorts of evil are diseased beliefs, and you can destroy them only by destroying the wicked motives which produce them. . . . Justice requires reformation of the sinner. Mercy cancels the debt only when justice approves. . . . Through the wholesome chastisements of Love, we are helped onward in the march towards righteousness, peace and purity, which are the landmarks of Science" (pp. 5, 404, 22, 323).

Serves second year on executive committee of Sigma Chi fraternity

Carl P. Clare of Arlington Heights, has been elected to the executive committee of the Sigma Chi fraternity at the session meeting of the grand council, now meeting at the Edgewater Beach hotel, in Chicago.

The executive committee takes care of business between sessions of the grand council which meets once a year.

This is the second year Mr. Clare has been on the committee. He is also National secretary, or grand annotator, of the fraternity and chairman of the fraternity permanent headquarters committee.

Anklin' Around with Ainslie

Do you like to argue? I mean do you enjoy getting into brisk but friendly disputes over your thoughts while discussing some of the Great Books? Mayhap it has been quite a spell since you were in the high school debating group—but if you enjoy a good pro and con session, take one of the seats at Arlington Heights high school library come November 1 and join in the friendly fun.

It isn't too late to join the class, and if the first meeting was any sample it looks like the course will really be interesting. Takes quite a spell for my mind to start creaking on its hinges but by the time ten rolled around I felt like I'd had a good mental workout.

Two leaders and their comments get the ball to rolling so to speak, and then things start popping. The first meeting was a discussion of the Declaration of Independence, and everyone had the opportunity of defending his ideas on this really great document.

Possibly you've always been meaning to read some of the really Great Books, but figured they were too deep. Well here is your chance, this course is free. You buy the books, read them and gather together to discover that some of the old boys, dead for a hundred years or more, had ideas you can well put to use right now.

Took a jaunt over to Dundee for a look at the Haeger pottery factory. Believe me if you've always wondered how some of that beautiful ceramic work is made, take a free trip unrougn this plant.

Personally conducted trips show you how the clay is formed, glazed, fired and painted. Then you are free to wander about the large showrooms where seconds in pottery are sold reasonably. The brilliant chartreuse and deep wine colors are specialties of this factory. There are stacks and stacks of bowls, vases, figures, ash trays and book ends, and if you like unusual lamps you'll really find literally hundreds of them here and at low prices too.

As long as the weather has been perfect and thoughts of long winter afternoons at home not far off, I took a look at Hagerstrom Metal Craft Studio on Milwaukee avenue in Wheeling. Now if you'd like something in the line of metal be it a different mail box or fireplace equipment, you'll find it all gathered together in this attractive studio.

Say, if you've been chasing the children all over the neighborhood—seems like they smell a television set a mile away—and are toying with the idea of buying a set yourself, I hope to have some information on some of the common questions asked about television, so be seeing you next week.

Seek rezoning of lot adjoining Palatine

Zoning Board of Appeals of Cook county will hold a hearing at Palatine village hall, November 17 at 5:30 p.m. on a petition for rezoning from farming to business of a lot adjoining the Palatine sewage treatment plant.

It is located on the northside of Kenilworth road, 240 feet west of Vermont street, south of the Palatine corporate limits.

Church to mark ninth anniversary this Sunday

The Barrington Center church will celebrate its ninth anniversary since its reopening this Sunday Oct. 30, with two services, 3 and 7 p. m.

In the evening the music department, under the direction of Maria E. Hoffman, and the pastor, Helen L. Grupe, will present "The Church of Yesterday," a touching, illustrated old-fashioned meeting. The original song books, printed during the eighteen hundreds, will be used for the occasion featuring those hymns accompanied by the old reed organ and old kerosene lamps.

George Hanssen of Barrington, who recently celebrated his 85th birthday, will close in prayer.

This meeting the old timers will remember and is a service of the past, new for the young.

A special service will also be held at 3 p. m. and a fellowship supper served at 5 p. m. The public is invited.

The church has recently been repainted and several improvements made for this occasion.

BENSENVILLE AND PALATINE IN FINAL HOME GAMES

Pirates to meet up and coming Ela Saturday eve

Saturday night Palatine plays their fourth and last home doubleheader of the football season. The varsity will meet up-and-coming Ela, one of the fastest improving ball clubs in the league, in the feature game at 8:15. The preliminary will find Palatine's Frosh-Sophs seeking their third victory at the expense of Northbrook with starting time 6:30.

Ela, led by Eddie Prouty and Jerry Centoni, a pair of fast shifty backs, nas proved a real threat to every opponent and has a 2-2 conference record to date. It is Ela's second year of football. The Bears are light but fast, and their squad is well supplied with good athletes who have been standouts in basketball and baseball.

Stinging from a defeat they did not expect at Antioch the Palatine Pirates are out to improve their 2-3 conference won-lost record. It will be the last home appearance in football for Paul Loeber, Howard Kagay, Ray Mair, Jerry Fulton, and Bill Dejka, the seniors who are generally in the starting lineup. Loeber has been the leading ground gainer this season, his third in the varsity backfield.

ARLINGTON'S football Cardinals travel to Libertyville this Friday afternoon for the only afternoon contest on their schedule. The Cards hope to regain the victory trail in this game, with the goal for the team a .500 rating for the season.

To date Coach Curtis Larsen's charges have whipped Marmion and Belvidere, and lost to Racine, Kankakee, Crystal Lake and Niles. Next week's game on the Heights field against Leyden is the only contest on the locals' slate after Friday.

The Arlington Heights-Libertyville rivalry dates back to the founding of football at the two schools with the northern school holding the edge. In the last eleven meetings between the two schools, the Wildcats have shut out the Cards seven times.

But, in the other four games, the Arlington boys rolled up 102 points. On the basis of competition met (conquered and otherwise), the Arlington eleven rates the edge. But in these days of football upsets, either squad could come out on top.

On the sidelines

by RON PRELLBERG

Coach Larson felt young the other day and decided he wanted to scrimmage against his players. The results — some pulled ligaments, the hospital, crutches, etc. Take it easy Coach.

The 'Cards' best hope now is for a .500 season. They must win their last two tilts in order to achieve this.

A downpour of rain came in the last two minutes of the game at Niles the other night and sent the fans scurrying to cover. Not a half a dozen spectators were in the bleachers to see the Cards make their last desperate bid for a tie. A 30-yard pass was completed from Griffith to Evans during this downpour. Bob almost got away, too.

The Cards have not won away from home this year and have lost all 3 games by the score of 13 to 6. Let's hope this is broken at Libertyville.

On the other hand the Cards have won 2 out of 3 at home, losing to Kankakee by only 1 point.

The true test of the Arlington fans will be in the final game against Leyden on Dad's Night November 4th. Come on, fans, let's fill the stands and show our team that we are back of them.

To the surprise of everyone, Bob Neumann has made a complete recovery and has been pronounced ready for action again.

Leo Bell, varsity basketball coach has gathered together a group of cage hopefuls and started them on their postseason training.

MACS ★ SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

Every game Barrington High plays a new Northwest Conference record is set. If our information is correct, the Bronchos now have played 12 straight league games without being scored upon covering parts of 3 seasons. There seems little indication that either Bensenville or Grant, their remaining opponents, will be able to dent their goal line, for consecutive wins and for consecutive shutouts Barrington chalks up a new mark each week. Last Saturday the Bronchos added another record due to stand for a generation. They beat Wauconda, 73-0. Winning by such a margin in football is a doubtful honor as it is usually a poor policy. However, Barrington is operating with a small varsity squad, and the poorest 11 were out of the class of the opposition on this occasion. How long Coach Frey played his starting eleven we do not know but a total of 30 players appeared in the Broncho lineup.

Five Bronchos in first six scorers in league slate

The heavy scoring by Barrington Saturday raised individual points to the place where five of the first six league scorers are Barrington players. Shuett and Hansen are tied with 37 points, while Popp has 36, and Roake and Frey each have 30. Only Eddie Prouty of Ela has been in the running with the speedy Broncho backs and ends, as he has tallied 31 points. Heckmiller of Barrington has nine extra points to his credit. His seven good kicks Saturday set a league record.

Homecoming gives home team inspirational advantage

It is always a question whether unexpected football results are really upsets. In high school and college ball homecoming games seem to be tough assignments for visiting teams. Mental attitude and inspiration play a big part in winning sports events. The old saying that football success is 99% perspiration and 1% inspiration is not at all the right proportion. Take Michigan's 14-7 homecoming victory over Minnesota who was rated as unbeatable. And at that, Michigan was so inspired that in their over anxiousness they fumbled seven times or the margin could well have been two more scores.

In local circles the teams in the Northwest Conference have consistently won homecoming games. Palatine and Grant were both figured to have an edge over Antioch and Bensenville last week but homecoming spirit gave the Sequoits and Bisons the edge and victory.

Week of major upsets

It was a week of more upsets than the Michigan victory. Iowa beating Northwestern was a big surprise. With all attention in the big nine on Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio State, and Northwestern as the stand-out teams we now find Illinois in first place and Iowa second. Neither was supposed to go anywhere this season but seem to get by in this underdog year of football.

Pro ball also is experiencing upsets galore. Bears lost to New York Giants, Cardinals lost to Detroit, San Francisco '49ers dumped by New York Yankees. These are surprising upsets. To make it complete would be for some one to break Notre Dame's long victory string. We don't think there is a chance of this happening but who can tell in this hectic season.

A game we would like to see

Last week Evanston and New Trier beat Waukegan and Highland Park by margins of over 40 points in both cases. Neither team has come close to a defeat as they have rolled over everyone in the big Suburban League, a conference rated with the best in U.S.A. In their last conference game, November 5, this pair of gridiron guests clash at Evanston. Evanston has 11 colored boys on their varsity squad and some of them are their best performers. A football referee who worked the Evanston-Oak Park game which Evanston won by a lopsided score stated Evanston was the best high school team he had seen.

Niles comes up strong near season end

Niles' victory over Arlington Heights Friday night is a tribute to a scrappy squad of Trojans and to a great coach Harold Isaacson. "Ike" has a reputation in these parts for getting the most out of his boys and he does not use slave driver methods to get it. Niles was inexperienced and fell into a series of defeats at the start of the season against big schools which would have tried the morale of any group of boys. "Ike" kept them going and developing until we have Niles beating Morgan Park two weeks ago and overcoming Arlington last week. Better look out Leyden, those Trojans are out to win the Northeast Conference championship.

Bronchos only punted once in six games

Punting is becoming a lost art at Barrington. In six games to date the Bronchos have punted just once and that was a 45 yard boot at Northbrook. When Barrington loses the ball it is always so deep in opponent territory that little can be gained by a kick.

Place kicking extra points is a department in which Barrington is getting lots of practice this year. Heckmiller, a sophomore, kicked seven out of 11 Saturday.

Did you ever hear of a team making 11 touchdowns and only seven first downs? That was Barrington's record last Saturday in their 73-0 defeat of Wauconda. Touch down runs of 75, 50, 41, 40, 30 and 22 yards were gains from scrimmage that did not count in making first downs.

Bisons beat Grant, 7-0, in homecoming tilt

"A good time was had by all." Such might have been the complete story of Homecoming week end at Bensenville high school where the local football Bisons fashioned a 7-0 upset victory over Grant.

For Bensenville the entire week end was filled with the "do-or-die" spirit as classes competed in homecoming floats, the winner of the homecoming queen contest was honored, the dance Saturday night and the football victory Friday evening.

Coach Meneguin's boys led in just about every statistical department, from first downs to penalties, to rightfully earn victory against the aggregation from Fox Lake.

TO TOMCHEFF went the honor of scoring Bensenville's lone score, a 32 yard run in the second quarter. And to the team went the honor of outrushing the losers, 217-103 on the ground, and 5-0 in the air.

Unusual feature of the game was the passing attack. Grant attempted three tosses, and had all three intercepted. Velco grabbed two, and Lauman one. The Bisons passed just once—and it was good for five yards.

Ela edges Northbrook, 7-0

by RICHARD RODNEY

The Ela gridders, pepped up with homecoming spirit handed Northbrook a 7-0 defeat last Saturday afternoon, to throw the first division of Northwest conference wide open.

Ed Prouty, shifty running [illegible] back got away on a 45-yard sprint early in the second quarter to put the Ela Bears in scoring position. Jerry Centoni then plunged over for the touchdown. Centoni also drove over for the extra point.

In the third period an exchange of punts put Northbrook on Ela's 35. Twice the Vikings threatened to score on passes but were halted as the quarter ended.

The final frame opened with the Bears moving cautiously into scoring position. The Viking grid machine got underway as they took possession and gained yardage but were halted by an interception as the game closed.

Northbrook travels to play Wauconda next Friday afternoon, October 28, at 3:30 p. m.

Hornets host to Los Angeles Dons Friday night

Chicago Hornets continue their fight for playoff spot in the All-American conference this Friday night, October 28, when the Los Angeles Dons come to the Windy City for a return engagement.

The Hornets fared well over the week end against Baltimore, trimming the Colts, 17-7. The entire group played good ball against the easterners, copping their 4th victory against three defeats in league play.

The Soldier Field entrants in the All-America conference have already doubled their previous three year quota of victories, with five more contests on the slate. The Dons fell victim to the Hornets' revival once before and Coach Ray Flaherty hopes to garner even more wins after Friday when they travel to Cleveland, New York and Buffalo, before returning home against Cleveland November 24.

Arlington frosh settle for 6 to 6 tie at Niles

by RON PRELLBERG

A third period score by the AHTHS freshman fullback, Tom Theis, assured the yearlings of a 6-6 tie in an afternoon battle last Thursday on the Nilehi gridiron.

Alert defensive play stalled off any scoring until the 3rd quarter when Niles scored on a 35-yard aerial. The conversion try for the point failed.

The Cards came back, however, with renewed spirit as they marched 70 yards from their own 30 to paydirt, the key play being an aerial from Eakins to Henniberg who was stopped on the 4. Coulter then made 2 yards through the left side of his forward wall. Tom Theis was successful in his attempt to score on a left end sweep. The fumble of the pass from center eliminated the Cards' chances for the point after touchdown. The end of the game found the Trojans in possession of the ball on the Red Birds' 10-yard stripe.

Niles seeks revenge against Leyden Friday

by LOUIS KOESAY

The Nilehi Varsity Trojans will be host to the Leyden Eagles at the Niles' Homecoming game at 8:15 p.m. tonight, October 28, under the lights at the local field. Leyden has downed Bensenville and York, and lost to Downer's Grove, Elgin, Glenbard and Champaign. The Trojans will seek revenge for last years' 41 to 0 loss to Leyden.

It's a 'tie ball' but Arlington gets it

Antioch's first half drive gains win over Palatine, 12-7

Antioch celebrated their homecoming Friday night with a 12-7 victory over Palatine's Pirates. The Sequoits sewed up the game in the first half as they gained 107 yards to Palatine's 11 net from scrimmage. Added to this was a punt return of 56 yards and Antioch's two touchdown lead at the intermission was enough to win. Palatine scored at the start of the second half.

The deceptive ball handling of Haviland, Antioch quarterback, which had Palatine line men and linebackers moving out of position time after time enabled Antioch to win the game in the first half. The Indians marched 44 yards before losing the ball, following the opening kickoff. A little later they traveled 48 yards but did not score. Then a Palatine punt was taken in by Haviland on his own 44 yard and run back 55 yards to the Palatine one foot line. Wieczorek plunged over to score. Just before the half Loeber of Palatine fumbed on his own 15 yard stripe and Antioch recovered. After three plays Antioch was still on the 15 yard line. On fourth down a pass from Haviland to Buchta in the end zone was good for the second score. Both attempts for extra points failed.

PALATINE took the second half kickoff on their own 44 yard line and scored in 11 plays. A pass to Sherman and lateral to Kagay for 13 yards and an end run of 16 by Loeber highlighted the drive. Loeber went over from the seven yard line and Kagay's plunge scored the extra point.

Soon after Palatine had a break which gave them the chance for a second score. Antioch fumbled Palatine's punt and the Pirates recovered on the Antioch 36. At this point the offense bogged down. Loeber gained three but lost two and two passes were incomplete, giving Antioch the ball on their own 35. Late in the game Palatine advanced from their own 30 to the Antioch 40 but when they took to the air, which they had to do with time running out, the ball was lost on downs.

The Pirates outplayed Antioch in the second half but the pressure of having to score 13 points was more than they could handle. Paul Loeber carried the ball 15 times for Palatine and gained 69 yards of the Pirate total of 95 and Kagay got 22 of the remaining 26 of the Palatine net. Pulos, Wieczorek, and Wilton all gained well for Antioch but it was Haviland at quarterback whose all around good playing decided the game more than any individual. The Antioch line had the edge on Palatine throughout the game.

Touchdowns: Wieczorek, Buchta, Loeber.
Conversions: Kagay.

Fete 17 champion Redwings with trophies at banquet

The Arlington Heights Red Wing baseball team players were accorded all the recognition and tribute any champions may ever expect at the banquet planned by the loyal fans of Arlington Hts. and this area last Thursday evening.

Jim Enright, sports columnist of the Chicago Herald-American was principal speaker following the dinner served by the Dorcas Aid of St. Peter Lutheran church in the parochial school basement in Arlington Heights. Jim Ladd, former Red Wing pitcher, now affiliated with the Cleveland Indians farm team at Oklahoma City, Okla., addressed the group of 150 who attended the festivities briefly.

Tommy Kouzmanoff of Arlington Heights, also affiliated with the Herald-American and popular sports referee, also spoke.

Ed. Wahl, manager of the Red Wings, gave the fans some of the "low-down" on the many difficulties encountered annually in the team's effort to provide good baseball games throughout the season. He said his job was mostly to see that the foul lines were properly marked and to flash a signal for a home run if the home team gets behind; and occasionally to tell George Schaefer to pitch his famous strikeout ball if the opponents get too frisky.

The master of ceremonies, Jack Everett, gave a brief history of each player as they were introduced and presented with their individual trophies.

Bears shoot to revive title hopes Sunday

The Chicago Bears football club announced that tickets for three of the four remaining home games at Wrigley Field this fall, against the Green Bay Packers, Detroit Lions and Pittsburgh Steelers, have been placed on sale at Lytton's (State and Jackson), Wrigley Field and Bears' Headquarters, 233 West Madison street.

The Bears departed for California Wednesday, where they are scheduled to battle the Los Angeles Rams Sunday at the Coliseum before a crowd anticipated at 75,000. They return in time to meet the Green Bay Packers at Wrigley Field on Sunday, November 6th in the 63rd game of one of sportdom's greatest rivalries. The Bears-Packer tilt at Wrigley Field has attracted a capacity crowd annually.

Detroit, featuring the brilliant Bill Dudley and a fine cast which also includes Pep Panelli of Notre Dame, Camp Wilson, Fred Enke Jr. and Bob Mann comes to Wrigley Field on Sunday, November 13th, to tangle with the Bears. The Detroit game will be the Bears' last home engagement until December 4th, when they meet the Pittsburgh Steelers, who are bidding for Eastern Division first place honors with the Philadelphia Eagles, in the annual Homecoming featuure. Such former Bear heroes as Bronko Nagurski, BeattieFeathers, Joe Kopcha. Bill Karr, Keith Molesworth and Joe Maniaci are slated to be in attendance at the Pittsburgh tilt. The Bears meet the Cardinals at Wrigley Field on December 11th.

Heading for an all time attendance mark, having already attracted a total of 146,000 fans in three league appearances in Chicago this season, the Bears are likely to draw at least two more capacity crowds at Wrigley Field in their remaining games.

Arlington milkman bowls 275 game

Len Dunteman, Arlington Heights milkman and bowler, evidently has been drinking plenty of the profits of his business as he rolled a 275 game Thursday night on the Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes.

Len opened with two spares, then finished out with ten strikes. His previous 167 and 171 games gave him a 613 series. His dairy team notched a 966 game along with Len's 275, plus a 2650 series.

Broncs can even score vs. all-time Bisons

by BOB PADDOCK

Bensenville's Bisons play host this Saturday night in their final home game of the season when the Barrington Bronchoes come to town to show their wares.

There can be no doubt as to the favorite in Saturday night's contest under the lights at 7:30. The boys from up north haven't been scored upon in twelve league contests, they lost just one non-league affair last season—9-0 to Arlington—and just last week they drubbed inexperienced Wauconda, 73-0.

With five Broncs among the first six scorers in the conference, Coach Tom Meneguin's boys will have their work cut out for them this week. Fans will be pulling for a creditable performance by the local eleven, though no one expects them to cop a victory.

BUT THEN, most experts agreed that Northwestern, Minnesota, the Bears and Forty-Niners would never taste defeat last week end. And with that in mind, plenty of Bensenville rooters will be on hand hoping the Bisons can pull the same act.

Past history gives the Bronchoes a chance to win .500 rating against the DuPage county school. Bensenville holds the edge thus far, 4-3, outscoring their opponents 105-74.

Past scores of the seven years both schools have been playing football since the conference was reorganized in 1935:

1948—Bensenville 0, Barrington 26.
1947—Bensenville 32, Barrington 0.
1946—Bensenville 27, Barrington 0.
1945—Bensenville 6, Barrington 28.
1944—Bensenville 13, Barrington 6.
1943—Bensenville 20, Barrington 0.
1942—Bensenville 7, Barrington 14.

St. Louis Bombers on card, too, when Stags open vs Knickerbockers

Maurice Podoloff, president of the newly formed National Basketball Association, today announced that the St. Louis Bombers would play a league game against the Tri-City Blackhawks as part of the Chicago Stag-New York Knickerbocker double header at the Chicago Stadium, November 1. Previously the St. Louis-Tri-City game was only listed as an exhibition game but Podoloff made it clear that it would be an actual league contest and would affect the league standings. The doubleheader at the Stadium will open the Stags home schedule.

The switch to make the game a league contest was made at the request of Stag officials who have planned a 25 home game doubleheader program which will include a number of similar league contests. Chicago is the only team in the 17 team circuit who is undertaking such an extensive and attractive program. The league games are made possible by purchasing the contest from the home team and moving it to Chicago. Teams in the NBL receive all gross receipts from home games and do not receive any revenue on the road.

"The November 1 opener of the Stags will give the local fans an opportunity to see some of the outstanding players in the Loop, Podoloff said. St. Louis will show for the first time "Easy" Ed Macauley and Johnny Orr, besides their returning veterans including Johnny Logan, former Big-Ten star. Tri-City will have Dike Eddlemen and Jack Kerris, two of Chicago's favorites. New York will be led by Vince "Bullets" Boryla and Carl Braun.

Williams-Minelli bout heads Stadium card

World's Lightweight Champion Ike Williams and Livio Minelli, European welterweight titleholder, have been paired for a 10 round non-title bout in the Chicago Stadium November 4, the International Boxing club announced. Weight for the bout is 147 pounds, indicating Minelli will have a substantial edge on the scales.

Minelli made a surprise hit in his initial Chicago appearance September 30 when, as a substitute on four days notice, he extended Beau Jack, former 135-pound monarch, actually winning, in the opinion of most observers. Referee Tommy Gilmore gave Minelli the verdict but was overruled by the two judges.

Williams' last appearance in Chicago was in an exhibition bout on the "Carnival of Champions" last September 2 against Arthur King of Toronto. Previously he whipped Benny Walker in an overweight match in Oakland August 3 and defended his title by stopping Enrique Bolanos in four rounds in Los Angeles July 21.

In announcing the match Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, said the bout will be one of three 10 rounders in the making for the Nov. 4 card.

100,000 pheasants released in state

Between 90,000 and 100,000 pheasants have been liberated in Illinois so far this year, the state conservation department said.

The pheasants and about 65,000 quail were released by the department and cooperating sportmens' groups. The open seasons on the two types of game birds begins November 11.

Barrington rolls up 73-0 score on Wauconda

Barrington's championship bound Bronchos smothered Wauconda last Saturday, 73-0, in the most one-sided football game in the history of the Northwest Conference. Eleven touchdowns and seven conversions were put over by a 30 man Barrington squad. Substituting started after the score was 21-0 but there was at least one regular backfield man in the game until the last 10 minutes.

Touchdowns were scored on runs of 2 yards and 41 yards by Hansen, 30 yards and 22 yards by Roake, 75 yards by Shuett, 13, 16, and 40 yards by Popp, and 50 and 26 yards by Frey, 2 yards by Osinski as Barrington's speed and clever side-stepping piled up the count.

Wauconda held the Bronchos to a 7-0 first quarter but in the second period the Bronchos really rolled to pile up a 41-0 advantage. At one stretch the Barrington team scored three touchdowns in four plays. Starting the second quarter Hansen ran 41 yards to a T. D.

THEN WAUCONDA received and fumbled the ball to Barrington. Roake, on an end around, went 30 yards to score. Wauconda received the kickoff but let Barrington fall on the ball on the 21 yard line. (They let Barrington do this twice during the game on kickoffs). Osinski ran eight yards and then Popp went over from the 13 yard line.

Late in the game with the score 66-0 Shuett, Armanetti, and McNichols were sent back in the game for one play when Wauconda punted. The result was a 75 yard touchdown run by Shuett, the only regular back who had not scored up to that time. Sophomores played most of the final quarter.

Barrington	14	27	19	13	—73

Touchdowns— Barrington: G. Hansen (2), Roake (2), Popp (3), Osinski, Frey (2). Shuett.

Extra points — Barrington: Heckmiller (7).

Leyden keeps Arlington freshmen out of win column

by RON PRELLBERG

A highly improved Arlington frosh team was unsuccessful for the 4th time in its final attempt to break into the win column. Twenty to nothing was the final count as the gun ending the game halted the Leyden Frosh from racking up another tally.

The game was scoreless until 3 minutes before the end of the first half when Leyden scored on a short plunge after the touch down had been set up by a reverse play. The pass for the point was good.

The last half Leyden increased their lead with 2 long runs, one for 73-yards and another for 33. The extra point on the last tally was made by an end sweep making the final count 20-0.

This game concluded the Frosh schedule and although their record is a dismal 4 losses and 1 tie, many boys show promise for future action. Eakins, Hinneberg, Goetschel, Theis and Coulter are a few of the most talented gridders. A few of the Freshmen will suit up for the 3 remaining Frosh-Soph games but all will continue practice through November 3rd.

Niles deals 13-6 loss to Cardinals

by RON PRELLBERG

A final minute interception deep in Niles' territory on the part of the Trojans, clinched a 13-6 victory over the Arlington Heights Cardinals on the Skokie field last Friday. This was the 4th defeat dealt the locals this season, all 4 of which contained slipshod offensive blocking. The absence of 3 regulars from the squad lineup produced a decided handicap for the Arlington squad.

The opening kickoff was received by Spratt of Arlington who drove his way to the 40. The ball remained with Heights for the majority of the period but a long punt set the Cards back on their own 5 yard line. The Trojans were quick to take advantage of the set up as Lange recovered a Red Bird fumble on the 9. In 4 plays Martin Seidler was able to fight his way over tackle for the score. The pitch for the point was no good. At the close of the period Arlingtn had driven 40 yards from the kickoff to the victors' 40.

Two incomplete passes on the 40 forced the Cards to punt. The ball was then brought out to the 20 as the result of Gilman's kick into the endzone. A series of 2 more punts were exchanged before Niles was on its way to another T. D. Fate took the upper hand, however, as a Trojan fumble on their opponents' 3 turned the pigskin over to the Cards. Q. B. Eric Nelson then sent Paul Roche with knees high through the center of the line for 11 yards and a 1st down. Arlington managed to slip by only 2 more plays before the half ended.

HEIGHTS received the 2nd half kickoff but was forced to punt after 3 unsuccessful attempts to gain the necessary yardage. The 2nd successful touchdown march by the Trojans began when Griffith fumbled on his own 30. The score was halted momentarily as the horn sounded the end of their drive.

A T. D. play in which Lester Lange reached paydirt for the Trojans was the 1st act of the last frame. A pass from Griffith to Gordon Busse which was good for 38 yards to the Niles 10 started the locals on their 1st profitable T. D. tour. A pitch from Bob Packard to Dick Spratt in the end zone concluded the Arlington drive and also the scoring for the night. A penalty nullified Griffith's conversion.

Roche of Arlington, and Seidler and Lange of Niles, each carried more than their share for the night.

The locals frosh-soph evened up the night in a preliminary contest by a 12-0 win over the Niiehi Sophomores.

A TROJAN 1st quarter fumble on their own 30 was smothered by Grace. The Arlingtonites then placed the ball 15 yards short of pay dirt. Theis then glided his way over his own right side to the end zone. The throw for the point after touchdown was no good.

The 2nd quarter was climaxed by a 70-yard T. D. march. Roger Ragland pushed over the score on a quarterback sneak. Arlington again failed to make the extra point.

No action was recorded in the rest of the game except for some hard driving by Ragland and Theis.

Northbrook frosh-sophs whip Antioch, 25-6

by RICHARD RODNEY

Coach Clarence Gallagher's Northbrook frosh-sophs ran roughshod over an erratic Antioch team 25-6 in an afternoon encounter, Monday, October 17, on the Antioch field.

Northbrook's first touchdown came early in the first period when Roy Moore sprinted over from the Antioch 22. The conversion was missed.

Again it was Moore who tallied for the Vikings as he darted 45 yards for the second touchdown. The point after touchdown was again missed. Antioch's score came as a result of an aerial as the half ended.

In the third quarter Hauseman intercepted a pass on Antioch's 30 and galloped over for another Viking tally. The conversion was ruled no good.

Northbrook wasted little time in the final frame as they were soon on Antioch's 10-yard line. Kempa then plunged it over for the final touchdown. A pass to Peterson made up the extra point.

Those participating in the game for Northbrook were:

Ends: Peterson, Barnes, Kaufman.

Tackles: Landwehr, Beinlich, Farrel.

Guards: Koelper, R. Schmidt.

Center: Boyer.

Quarterbacks: Kuhns, Timmerman.

Halfbacks: Moore, Hauseman, Allison.

Fullback: Kempa.

Stags 'stop-Mikan' hopeful towers 6' 9"

With backboard control as important as it is in pro basketball traffic, the Chicago Stags can thank their lucky stars for the trade which brought Kleggie Hermsen's six-foot, nine-inch frame into their Stadium picture.

Towering six-nine is one thing; being able to use all that height is another. And that's where the Stags are doubly fortunate. They now possess not only one of the toughest, roughest, and heaviest.

Right now Hermsen would just as soon forget his weight, but he can't. Anxious to take off the 10 pounds which will drop him down to 235, he's the first member of the squad to leave the training table each night. More, he's the only squadman who wore a rubber shirt, renowned as a poundage-pruner, during the Stags' workouts at Delafield, Wis.

Hermsen has been prowling the pro beat for the last three years, and at 26 years of age figures to have many more miles available for the N.B.A. He's the chief hope of the Stags to stop, or slow up, the redoubtable George Mikan of the Minneapolis Lakers.

After playing independent ball in Minneapolis from 1942 to 1944 Hermsen entered the University of Minnesota in 1944.

Chicago's greatest indoor polo season wil open November 26 at the Chicago Avenue Armory, 234 East Chicago ave., and continue each Saturday night throughout the 1949-1950 season under the auspices of the Illinois National Guard Benefit Association, Brigadier General Robert E. Moffet, chairman, announced.

The metropolitan season will continue at the armory for sixteen weeks with time out for the Christmas and New Years holidays and will be followed by the National Indoor Championship games.

Women of the Moose to have baby contest

The Women of the Moose, Greater Chicago Chapter No. 129, are conducting a baby contest as part of their Child Care and Training program.

Registrations will be taken at the registration desk in the Fair's Infant department beginning Thursday, October 27th through Wednesday, November 2nd.

Each entrant will receive a thorough physical examination and score cards filled in by the doctors will be returned to the parents for their information.

The second event on the program will be the baby beauty contest. The babies will parade in their own age classes, dressed in sun suits or bathing suits before prominent local people who will be the judges.

A redhead and twin contest is also scheduled.

A dance review from a local dance studio will be an additional attraction.

All babies up to five years of age, living in Chicago and surrounding territory are eligible for entry. More information may be obtained at the registration desk in the Fair's Infant department.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful service, floral offerings, and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful.

OBITUARIES

Bertha Minnie Buck

Funeral services were held for Bertha Minnie Buck, late of 508 W. Northwest highway, Arlington Heights, at the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, at 2 p. m., October 22. Rev. J. M. Kempf officiated. Interment Dundee Township cemetery.

Mrs. Buck was born in Plitz, Germany, November 23, 1882. She came to the United States in 1894 and married John Buck. Following their marriage the couple made their home in Dundee and later in Elgin.

Mrs. Buck entered the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged in Arlington Heights July 24, 1948. She died there October 20 at the age of 66.

Surviving her are three children, Mrs. John Hoffman of Elgin, John C. Buck of Chicago, and Rev. Wesley J. Buck of Oxford Junction, Ia.

Milton A. McAdam

Funeral services were held for Milton A. McAdam, late of 306 N. Vail ave., Arlington Heights, October 25. Interment All Saints cemetery.

Mr. McAdam was born November 14, 1897, in Chicago. In 1945 he married Dorothy Cissel in Washington, D. C. Following their marriage the couple made their home in Capital Heights, Md., for two years, and then moved to Arlington Heights where they have resided the past two years.

Mr. McAdam was a steamship agent assigned to Chicago. He was a member of the Ocean Freight Agents Association of Chicago, the Old Timers Baseball association, the Traffic Club of Chicago, the Export Manager's Club of Chicago, and the South Bend Transportation club.

He served in the U. S. Navy for three years during World War I, and received an honorable discharge September 30, 1921.

Mr. McAdam died at his home October 22 at the age of 51.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy; seven children, Mary Ann, Peggy Ann, Terry and Carol McAdam, and Ruth, John and Warren Hanak; his mother, Mrs. Peter McAdam; four sisters, Mrs. Agnes Nyhagen, Mrs. Edward Carr, Mrs. Edward Lane, all of Chicago, and Mrs. Isabell Johnson of San Francisco, Cal.

Louise Hasse

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Louise Hasse, nee Buhrke, late of Beisner rd., Elk Grove Township, October 25 at Karstens-Black Memorial chapel and at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, Schaumburg. Rev. F. A. Hertwig officiated. Interment St. John's cemetery, Northfield.

Mrs. Hasse was born May 8, 1877. She was confirmed a Lutheran in Northfield in 1891. She married Herman Hasse November 22, 1905, and following their marriage the couple made their home in Northfield for 20 years. They moved to Arlington Heights and lived there for four years, and then moved to Elk Grove 20 years ago.

Mrs. Hasse was a faithful member of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, Schaumburg. She died, after a lingering illness, at her home October 22, at the age of 72.

Her survivors include her husband, Herman; five children, Mrs. Henrietta Salge, Fred Hasse, Herman Hasse and Gladys Hasse, all of Arlington Heights, and Herbert Hasse of Wood Dale; one brother, Fred; two sisters, Mrs. Martha Honeman of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Anna Lohman of Glenview, and 11 grandchildren.

Marie C. Meyer

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Marie C. Meyer, nee Clausing, late of 908 N. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights, October 28, at 2 p. m., at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church. Mrs. Meyer will lie in state at the church Friday from 12 noon until the time of the service. Rev. L. V. Stephan will officiate. Interment St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran cemetery.

Mrs. Meyer was born October 11, 1886, in Arlington Heights. She was confirmed at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church in 1900 by Rev. Noack. In 1909 she married George W. Meyer and the couple made their home in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Meyer was an active member of St. Peter church. She was also a member of St. Peter Dorcas Aid Society, Ladies Aid, Couples club, Lutheran Child Welfare and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

After an extended illness Mrs. Meyer died at St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, October 25 at the age of 63.

Surviving her are her husband, George; three children, Ralph, Richard and George; two brothers, Louis Clausing and Theodore Clausing; two sisters, Minnie Clausing and Mrs. Alvina Lussman; three daughters-in-law, Elizabeth, Nelda and Emma May, and five grandchildren.

Palatine Eagles fall, 6-0, to DesPlaines

The Palatine Eagles fell before a determined and hard fighting Des Plaines team last Sunday, at Des Plaines, by a score of 6-0.

Des Plaines came from behind and, outplayed by the Eagles in the first half, came back in the second to get the break of the game and score.

The teams were evenly matched, and what advantage there was in that first half was all Palatine, the Eagles rolling up five first downs before the Des Plaines lads had picked up one.

Fumbles were frequent, and in the first half the Eagles were regular ball hawks, recovering not only most of their own bobbles but their opponents' as well.

Both teams showed a powerful line defense in that first half and an alert pass defense for what few passes were attempted.

In the second half the complexion of the game changed completely, and the advantage was all with the Des Plaines boys.

The Eagles fumbled badly in the second half, and an alert home team recovered most of the fumbles. The real break of the game came when Palatine tried to pass on their own 20-yard line and a Des Plaines player grabbed the ball out of the air and went for a touchdown. The try for point after touchdown went wide.

Palatine made a desperate effort to tie it up, and in the last few seconds of the game they took the ball on downs on their own 15 yard line and, passing and running the ball from punt formations, carried it to the opponents' 20 yard stripe, where time ran out on them and the game was over.

It was a hard fought but an exceptionally clean game throughout. Not a major penalty was called in the first half, and only a couple in the second.

Sunday the Eagles will meet the strong Belvidere team, which defeated them in a close game a few weeks ago.

The game will be played at Palatine community park under the lights, starting at 8 p. m.

The Eagles have shown marked improvement in the last few weeks and are confident of giving the men from the North plenty of battle.

Madrigal singers to highlight open house at Arlington Heights high school Thursday night

Melneke photo

MADRIGAL SINGERS were popular during the Elizabethan period when groups assembled after dinner to sing at the tables for enjoyment. The costumes are in keeping with the apparel of the seventeenth century. The girls' robes of chartreuse, gold, blue, rose, grey and wine brocaded satin feature mutton-chop sleeves, ruffled collars, and hooped skirts. The boys are attired in black doublets, shortpants, and hose with capes of deep tones of green, blue, and wine lined with bright gold satin. Their black jackets are decorated with two-inch satin stripes of scarlet, gold, purple, and emerald.

Songs in their repertoire are also in keeping with the period which they represent. Among the compositions they sing are, "Oh, Eyes of My Beloved," by DeLasso, "In Pride of May," by Cole, "My Bonnie Lassie Smileth," by German, "Come Again, Sweet Love," by Bowland, and "Sing We Enchanted," and "Since First I Saw Your Face," by Morley.

Lutheran seminar to be held in Evanston

The topic, "The Christian Home," will be studied by Lutheran men and women of the North Shore area at Bethlehem school auditorium, Lake and Ashland, Evanston, October 30.

Speaker at this "town-hall" meeting, which has been arranged by the Lutheran Laymen's Leagues of Evanston, Des Plaines, Glenview and Skokie, will be Dr. Henry F. Wind of Buffalo, N. Y. An open forum discussion led by Rev. Otto F. Arndt is a feature of the meeting scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Wind is executive secretary of the Lutheran Service society, an organization in which all the welfare societies of the Lutheran Church in New York are affiliated. He is also national president of the Associated Lutheran charities, and a committee member of the American Association for Social Workers. The state of New York has appointed Dr. Wind to various state committees dealing with the problems of homes, delinquent girls and home-finding societies for children.

Under the a uspices of the Lutheran Laymen's League these Seminars are held in cities throughout our nation and Canada. They are open forum meetings in which today's problems of the church are presented by outstanding leaders and discussed in town-hall fashion.

Prospect Heights Choral Society presents concert of varied music

With music ranging from the classical of Haydn, the modern of Frederick Piket, to the musical comedy lyrics of "Brigadoon," the Prospect Heights Choral Society of 36 members, under the direction of Phyllis Snetsinger and accompanied by Lorraine Dean, sang its fifth season concert at Arlington Heights high school auditorium October 21.

The first group that the entire ensemble sang began with an inspired tribute to the harmonious art, "Music," by Gustav Klemm. There followed a Russian religious number, "Heavenly Light" by Alexander Kopylow; a madrigal, "My Lovely Celia," by George Monro; and a humorous, barnyard story, "The Little White Hen" by Antonio Scandello.

THE STRANGE, insistent lure of the sea was depicted musically in the next composition, "Sea Charm" by Frederick Piket, and the choral group sat upon the stage and gave modern harmonious voice to the varying pictures as they also were portrayed in succession within a frame against a spotlighted, sea-color backdrop.

The poems set to music were: Water Front Streets, Long Trip, Sea Calm, Sailor, Seascape, Mexican Market Woman, Parisian Beggar Woman, Death of the Old Seaman, and Sea Charm. The imaginative figures to intensify the mood of the song included figures of the characters of the poetry, the ship which personified the sea, the single tall candle and the pair of empty seamen's boots for the death of the seaman.

Actors who represented the human characters were Laura Fritz and Larry Larsen.

Walter Daube was the first solo exponent of the talent within the group and sang two numbers beloved to all tenors: "Vesti La Giubba" from Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci" and the "Serenade" from the "Student Prince" by Romberg.

AS A CONTRAST from the black robes of the first two groups, the womens chorus then appeared in colorful evening dress singing first the nostalgic "Ault Wien" or "Old Vienna" by Leopold Godowsky. A gay round, "Ifka's Castle," arranged by Harley-Aschenbrenner was second, and was followed by the popular "Sweet and Lovely."

Six of the rousing and catchy choruses from the present long-run musical "Brigadoon" were sung by the women and men together again and, in spirit with the autumn season, "Shine On Harvest Moon" was sung as an encore.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell, in costume, sang two charming duets: "Sympathy" by Friml, and "When Day is Done" by Katcher, with emphasis on romantic sighing, coquettishness, and heartfelt affection in their actions and glances as well as their singing.

In contrast to the voiced music and displaying the piano virtuosity of Mrs. Snetsinger and Mrs. Dean, these two performers played three two-piano numbers: "Sicilenne" by Bach - Maier," "Scherzino" and "Lobster Quadrille" by Simmons, which were heartily applauded by the audience.

THE COSTUMES and with setting "Thirty Minutes with Stephan Foster" arranged by Bland, was the high spot in the evening for audience appeal combining, as it did, the simple beauty of the endearing old folk tunes with the humor and color of the spoken story presentation. The men's chorus appeared in this group with "Down South," "Dry Bones," and "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming."

Gloria Chyrchel who acted the part of Stephen Foster's young love, also sang the solo, "Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair" and Lois Gilbert, as Miss Susan, "Beautiful Dreamer." Speaking parts were convincingly taken by Robert Randolph as Stephen, Lucile Staahl as Mrs. Foster, and Hazel Talbot as Mammy, some of the speeches adding elements of humor to the presentation.

In the final group the entire ensemble gave "Eloquence" by Haydn, a humorous discourse on wine and men and fishes and water, and the choral version by Waring of the gay "Waltz of the Flowers" from the "Nutcracker Suite" by Tschaikowsky.

Mrs. Snetsinger received a bouquet of roses as a token of appreciation from the choral group. The program notes were written by Esther Zyc and Robert Randolph. Girls from Palatine high school acted as ushers.

Mrs. Melvin Gustafson, who was to have sung two numbers, was incapacitated by a slight accident which occurred several days prior to the concert.

Requests for encores were made and granted on all sections of the program.

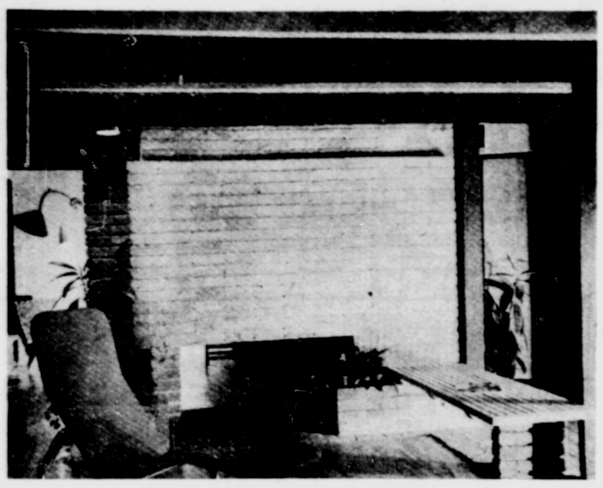
Architects praise new contemporary design home



INTERIOR VIEW

When seventeen architects stop to visit a house during construction and when two of them want to buy that house, there is something to investigate. And when the investigation reveals that the price is $3000 below the average guess, there is still more to look into.

This is the situation just off the main highway through Palatine. Directly across the street from the new school and park at 135 E. Wood st., a modest two bedroom house of quiet and dignified contemporary design has aroused considerable curiosity and much talk. Opinions appear to be distinctly divided—either strongly pro or decidedly con. There appears to be no neutral position.

LIVING UNLIMITED, the builder company, is having the house open to the public this week end—Saturday and Sunday the 29th and 30th from 2 to 9 p. m.

From the street one really isn't sure that this is a home—indeed one is not convinced of its domestic comforts and attributes until once past the entry portals. There are two entry doors to choose from. They are practically side by side immediately facing the street and conveniently beneath the open car shelter or "carport." We had some reservations about the "carport" but were told that they have existed for over forty years in climates more rigorous than this and that there is yet to be a case of one having been closed-in. Certainly a sheltering roof, like the old-fashioned porte-cochere, is convenient to the every day come and go of a little house like this.

We noticed the absence of downspouts from the roof and saw spillways that direct the rainwater to deep dry wells. This is soil conservation on a domestic scale since the water is fed to the nearby tree roots instead of being wasted to the storm sewers. Another unusual aspect of the roof structure included projecting outriggers which help accentuate the long low horizontal lines of the house and are intended to carry the shading foliage of flowering vines.

INDOORS A WALL of glass greets us and we enjoy a sort of cave-like view of the garden as its sunshine and color is actually brought visually into the house. This glass wall on the south exposure has a carefully calculated projecting roof which admits the warm solar rays of the low winter sun but shades away the hot summer sun. Nor is ventilation allowed to interfere with the window views since there are screened openers built in above eye level between ceiling beams.

The glass walled living room-dining room combination shares a massive wood burning fireplace with an adjoining studio bedroom. There is also a large brick planting box for tropical plants built into the chimney mass. Each of the good sized bedrooms has large wardrobe closets and each has access to the outdoors and a screened porch. The porch in turn opens to a privately enclosed outdoor garden where an inviting path leads away from the house.

In addition to the porch is a pleasant terrace reached through a pair of French doors from the living room. This is an ideal spot for outdoor eating and relaxing. And this homeowner can truly relax because the onerous tasks of lawn mowing and house painting have been erased for him. The proud male can bask in the sun and boast of his pachasandra crop. Pachasandra is an evergreen ground cover planted to much of what would normally be lawn. Instead tanbark or concrete slabs substitute for lawns and neither beckon the unwanted dandelion or quack grass. Easy living is both inside and outside this house.

THE ENTIRE interiors are of various rich woods in panel form. There are slab doors of African mahogany and birch, cedar, grooved Douglas fir, and Philippine mahogany along with a beautiful grass cloth of turquoise cast imported from Occupied Japan. Ceilings are of striated weldtex and contrast sharply with the jet ebony black beams, columns, and natural pine trim strips.

The clinical hospitalized appearance of white enamel is strikingly replaced by further use of rich birch, mahogany and stainless steel in the kitchen and bath. These rooms are as pleasant as the living room. The kitchen has ample space for an automatic laundry washer and dryer, much storage, and even room to eat at a table. It is surely a house for easy living.

The absence of basement and attic was explained as putting the house on "the mother earth level" eliminating the wearying ups and downs to damp dark basements and cold attics. The human animal is said to have given up the climbing habit several generations back.

THE MERGING of one room into another creates the spaciousness feeling known in contemporary design as "open planning." Such open planning makes for a zoning between work and play areas and formal and informal housekeeping ease. For example, the children's room opens through double doors to include the hall for added play area—convenient to the bath and porch making a big area for informal kid play.

Heating is semi-radiant with ducts in the concrete slab beneath the hardwood oak flooring. Hot air is circulated beneath the floor and discharged along the window wall and into the far corners of the house to be drawn back to the gas or oil fired unit through filters.

That contemporary design is coming is evidenced by the early sale of this house and the order backlog already built up for LIVING UNLIMITED. Some people call it "different." "Not just different—but pleasanter to live in" is the company's reply.

A word about LIVING UNLIMITED. This company is only two years old and stands in a unique position in the building field. Its personnel, numbering but eleven full time employees, has a strong background in the prefabricated house field as well as work in building the famous Taliesin establishment of Frank Lloyd Wright. Their houses are developed as staff problems and while leaning heavily toward good contemporary design they are erected by means of field applied prefabrication techniques. A packaged house is being introduced to builders and contractors to whom the company now merchandises a broad variety of building materials out of its Long Grove workshops.

IN THE HOME field LIVING UNLIMITED is not limited in the scope of its activities. It is currently engaged in erecting houses in both the $4000 and $40,000 cost brackets. While its planning department has an infinite number of plan designs to fit most requirements the company has facilities to work out individual solutions for client problems. LIVING UNLIMITED treats the complete home package right down to the silverware on the table. This is unusual in this part of the country especially since it includes all aspects of interior and garden furnishing as well as tropical indoor and evergreen outdoor landscaping.

In the vernacular of those familiar with the work of LIVING UNLIMITED the company is often called "EASY LIVING" in amiable good humor — and they like it. Easy living is their aim and commodity. Take a look and see if you don't agree. The house at 135 E. Wood st., is directly across from the Palatine high school.

Dr. Ward's Notebook

'I'm scared to death of the dark, Doc'

"Dark night, that from the eye its function takes,
The ear more quick of apprehension makes."

Anyone who has ever been seriously ill for a long time will tell you that lying awake at night is one of the worst aspects of being an invalid. The darkness, the silence, the opportunity to think about one's self without interruption magnifies every pain, terrorizes the most hardy.

There is something sinister about nighttime that makes people do things they would not do in broad daylight. The majority of hysterical emotional reactions occur at night. Statistics have shown that it is during the wee morning hours that most patients commit suicide. Even patients who are not physicallly ill find a horror in night—insomnia can be very troublesome, debilitating and persistent.

Aside from the psychological impact of darkness, many illnesses are characteristically worse at nighttime. Cardiac patients with failing hearts have episodes of shortness of breath and apprehension after they have been lying down an hour or two. Many patients with angina pectoris find that with night there come pains which may not be present during the daytime.

Practically all asthmatics are worse at night. The cool night air is irritating to the sensitive bronchial tubes. In addition, the recumbent posture makes breathing more difficult. Fear of suffocation, especially if the patient is alone, sets up a vicious cycle: fear—bronchial spasm —wheezing — breathlessness — fear.

Older men with enlargement of the prostate frequently have to get up at night from four to eight times. During the daytime, the urge is not so noticeable since the patient is normally up and about. When sleep is interrupted, however, the condition becomes quite aggravating and may lead to a general run-down condition from lack of sleep.

Many skin diseases are worse at night. A classic example is scabies ("the itch"), commonly found among families where hygiene and sanitation are poor. This distressing itch is caused by a tiny bug which burrows a tunnel just beneath the outer layers of skin. When the victim gets into bed and pulls up his warm covers, the increased skin temperature makes these bugs wiggle and crawl along underneath the skin. This causes an intolerable itching, burning sensation which usually brings the patient to his doctor after one or two nights.

Many patients have said, "Doctor, I'd be fine if it just weren't for the nighttime. I dread to see night coming because I know that I am in for hours of suffering."

The best that science has to offer is specific treatment of the condition causing this fear of night. As far as I know, turning night into day is one thing medical science has not yet accomplished.

JUST DOGS

Hunting Season —

With the first real frost under our belts along with Christmas only 57 days away, the awful truth has reared up in many a home where the man of the house puts his pride and joy in the hunting ability of his favorite dog—the awful truth being that the hunting season is right on top of him and he has not kept the dog in trim for the event.

If you have not had that dog out for a workout by now, especially if this is the animal's first season for hunting, then brother you might just as well forget taking that gun out of the case. The next best thing is to find some friend who has a trained dog and will take pity on you and let you go along.

A good thing to remember is that during the summer months training lapses, and, therefore, you should start your dog back into workouts in the field early in the fall. Your editor has written this before and he will write it again—many people are content to let the dog enjoy himself during the summer which often results in that prize sporting dog chasing rabbits all over the countryside, and the prize hound dog pointing birds and flushing them like a veteran. I think the best I have ever seen was a Pointer which, after a summer of little or no work, held his first point on a butterfly.

A little work early in the fall, rather than late, pays off in having a dog which on opening day does not sit down, scratch himself, yawn and look disinterested in the whole affair.

Obedience Trial —

That obedience trial held by the South Side Obedience Dog Training Club at the Chicago Avenue Armory in Chicago last Sunday, established somewhat of a record with an entry of some 300 dogs going into 371 classes. The reason for the different totals being that some dogs were entered in more than one class.

By and large it was the largest all-breed obedience trial held in the country and had entries from many nearby states. Folks from the areas in Cook County outside of Chicago were well represented as well as many other northern and western counties served by your paper. However, to keep track of all those entered was almost impossible.

Many folks won prizes as well as starting their dogs on the road to obedience honors.

Next Show —

The next event of any size will be the Rock River Kennel Club show which will be an all-breed confirmation and obedience trial to be held Sunday, November 6, at Rockford.

Are your children Safe in our school busses?

This is the second of four articles on school bus transportation written by a reporter who was told to find out just how safe is school bus transportation.

The man who seeks a job as a driver of a school bus must meet stringent state regulations. Before his examination he must hold a chauffeur's license, and must hold or be enrolled in a preferably American Red Cross first aid course.

After preliminary approval by the office of the county superintendent of schools that he is qualified, his fitness must be passed upon by the school board and he must take a physical examination. The drivers' license examination is given by the state highway police.

The superintendent of Public Instruction issues the driver's permit.

No school bus, regardless of all known safety devices, is safer than the driver who operates it.

Preference is given to those over 24 years of age. He must have at least a year's experience driving a vehicle larger than a passenger car. He must have a past record free from conviction for reckless driving, revocation of his driver's license, unsatisfied judgment as the result of an accident.

The state regulations state that the character and habits of a bus driver should be considered as carefully as those of a teacher. He should be selected for dependability, good habits, unquestionable good character and willingness to follow unfailingly all instructions.

NO PERSON who uses intoxicating liquors can be employed as a bus driver. He must not use tobacco when on duty and must refrain from the use of profane language.

Below are the major rules that a driver of a school bus is required to follow: There are 28 in all.

Check the condition of the bus daily, before starting out.

Observe carefully the rules of the road, all signs, signals, and courtesies due others.

When carrying children do not drive faster than 40 miles per hour on the best concrete roads, and more slowly on gravel or dirt roads.

Be sure that the door is closed at all times when bus is in motion.

Never leave the bus while the motor is running.

Never coast with the clutch disengaged or the gears in neutral.

Never drive backwards on school grounds, except when the rear is guarded by a patrolman or adult.

Never fill the gasoline tank while there are any children in the bus or while the motor is running.

Bring the bus to a full stop on the right-hand side of the road before taking on or letting off children.

At railroad grade crossings stop between 10 and 50 feet from the nearest rail.

When children are picked up in the morning and must cross the road you should beckon them to cross when it is safe to do so. The children must be instructed to await the proper signal.

Instruct the pupils at least twice during the school year in (a) the use of the emergency door; (b) the safe operation of the windows; (c) the proper use of fire extinguishers.

Let no one, other than school teachers and pupils regularly assigned to the bus, ride without a special permit from the school board.

Transport no animals with school children.

Permit no loaded weapon or explosive of any kind on the bus.

In case of accident or breakdown while the bus is hauling children, do not leave the bus to go to telephone or summon help, but send two of the patrol boys or other responsible children to the nearest house for such purposes.

Removing Painted Wallpaper

To remove several coats of wallpaper which have been painted, before repainting a plastered wall, apply a mixture of trisodium phosphate solution thickened with paperhangers paste. When the mixture has re-acted, the paper can be easily removed with hot water.

Campus Capers

At Monmouth

The A. H. Hastings of Rand road, Palatine, are well represented at Monmouth this year. James is a senior, Marilyn a sophomore and Carol a freshman.

At Bradley

Three students from Palatine have registered in the largest student body in university history at Bradley University, Peoria. They are Alice Barloga, 144 N. Linden; Charlotte LaLonde, 103 N. Benton; Robert Smith, 308 S. Hale.

Contrary to a nation-wide downward trend, Bradley's 3,661 students make up the largest student body ever enrolled and represents an increase of 400 per cent over pre-war years.

At Ancola

Jack W. Holt, son of Mrs. Lucille Holt, 176 W. Walnut st., Bensenville, has become a member of the concert band at Tri-State College, Angola, Ind. He is playing baritone with the campus organization. The band is under the direction of Roy C. Bodie, Jr.

Mr. Holt formerly played with the Bensenville high school band. He is enrolled in the department of Business Administration at Tri-State College. He attended Bensenville high school.

At Colorado Mines

Ralph W. Heinze, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Heinze of Pine and Cypress streets, Arlington Heights, and a graduate of Arlington Heights Township high school, has registered as a freshman at the Colorado School of Mines, which this year is celebrating the completion of seventy-five years of training in mineral engineering.

The Colorado School of Mines, the oldest institution in the country devoted exclusively to mineral engineering training, is located at Golden, thirteen miles west of Denver.

At Harvard

J. Mileham Klapp, 232 So. Rohlwing rd., Palatine, Administrative Assistant to President of United Air Lines is one of 143 businessmen from 24 states and seven foreign countries now enrolled in the Advanced Management Training Program of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Holding such titles as president, treasurer, production manager, comptroller, sales manager, and plant manager in the 96 companies represented, these executives are spending 13 weeks in Boston, Mass., studying problems of business management and industrial organization.

In Japan

Private Daniel F. Raupp, Battery "A" 99th Field Artillery Battalion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albunus C. Raupp, Arlington Heights recently participated in field maneuvers on the slopes of Mt. Fujiyama for the period of two weeks.

Mt. Fujiyama rises 12,480 feet from sea level and may be seen from approximately the distance of 100 miles. Mt. Fujiyama has long been a "ritual monument" of the Japanese people.

The 99th Field Artillery Battalion, together with units of the Fifth Cavalry Regiment, engaged in coordinated field exercises as part of their advanced training in combat tactics.

While on maneuvers the troops had the opportunity to climb Mt. Fujiyama. The excursion left early Saturday morning and returned late Sunday evening.

Foresees "Human" Machines

"Intelligent" machines with an almost human conception of motion as the result of a far wider use of hydraulic torque converter transmissions, are foreseen by F. G. Shoemaker, consulting engineer of the Detroit Diesel Engine Division of General Motors. Here is a cartoonist's impression of a power shovel which would use the same type of circular motion as a man employing a hand shovel. Present power shovels scoop up earth and rock with straight or angular motions.

Lesson in English

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "The reason why I came is that I wanted to see her." When that is used, why is redundant. Say, "The reason I came is that I wanted to see her."

Do not say, "Her clothes are very unique." Omit very.

Do not say, "We shall go, irregardless of circumstances." There is no such word as irregardless. Say, "regardless of circumstances."

In the best usage, scholar is applied to a learned person, pupil to one in an elementary school, student to one who is attending a college or university.

Do not say, "He spends the major portion of his time in the office." Say, "the greater part of his time."

Do not say, "We are going to try and stop them." Say, "We are going to try to stop them."

Words Often Mispronounced

Bade. Pronounce the a as in bad, not as in aid.

Illusive. Pronounce the u as in use, not as in rude.

Machination. Pronounce mak-i-na-shun, first a as in at, second a as in ate, accent third syllable.

Columner (pertaining to a column). Pronounce ko-lum-ner, o as in no unstressed, u as in lumber, with accent on second syllable.

Error and err. Pronounce the noun with the e as in bet. Pronounce the verb as ur, u as in fur.

Quay. Pronounce as though spelled key.

Words Often Misspelled

Hinder (verb); hindrance (noun-. Outrageous; observe the eous, and not ious. Remit, one t; remittance, two t's. Mischievous; not vious. Lovable, va; moveable, vea. Vignette; though pronounced vin-yet.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Variant; different from others of its kind or class. "Men's minds are as variant as their faces." — George Washington.

Embryonic; undeveloped. (Pronounce em-bri-on-ik, e as in men, both i's as in it, o as in on, accent third syllable). "Her talent was embryonic."

Impeccability; sinlessness. (Pronounce second syllable peck; accent follows the l). "The impeccability of the minister was not questioned."

Prudential; proceeding from prudence; exercising prudence. "Proverbs are, for the most part, rules of moral, or, still more properly, of prudential conduct." — Brande.

Reluctantly; unwillingly. "He reluctantly submitted to their demands."

Austere; rigorous; stern; severe or strict. (Pronounce as-ter, a as in ah, e as in here, accent second syllable). "The British mode of life is austere."

At Northwestern

Local shoppers have chance at 50 dollars

If your name is listed in the Chicago or suburban Chicago telephone directories you have a chance to win $50. Celebrating National Tea Co's Golden Anniversary, Storecast Corp. of America, New York, is joining with National Food Stores in a great carnival of special features, consisting of customer games and contests.

Storecast, which services National Stores with musical programs and reminder announcements, launches the "Storecast Listen for Your Name Game," in 100 National Stores and heard in all areas covered by FM Station WEHS, Chicago.

Each day Storecast will select several names from the phone directories in Chicago and all areas covered by WEHS. At various times during the day, following the theme song "Hi Neighbor," a different name will be announced over Storecast, and WEHS.

If you hear your name report to a Storecast National Food Stores manager and have him call the Storecast office within 15 minutes. If you can answer the Storecast question asked you on the phone, you will win "A Fortune of Fifty," fifty dollars, one for each of National's Golden Years. In addition, Storecast will send each manager who phones with a winner a check for five dollars.

Maine school to ask $2,000,000 addition

Plans for a bond issue to finance a two million dollar addition to Maine Township high school were laid by the Board of Education.

If opproved at the polls the bond issue will finance: 20 additional classrooms, a new cafeteria, a new gym, and an auditorium.

The additional classrooms are designed to take care of an expected increase of 600 students. The high school, planned for 1,000 students, has 1,805 this year and is expected to have an enrollment of 2,400 in the near future.

Seven hundred and fifty to 800 students could be accommodated in the planned cafeteria and students would eat in three shifts. The present cafeteria can accommodate only a few hundred. The present gym accommodates 1,200 but the new one planned would take care of 3,000 to 3,500.

There is no auditorium at the school now.

TAX FACTS

By George S. Mahin, Executive Secretary, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Despite cuts by the IPAC effective September 1st of 10% in State aid to local governments for general relief and 5% in State grants for Aid to Dependent Children, the IPAC reports that it has had to allocate $10,960,200 for the month of October for general relief, ADC, old age assistance, and blind assistance.

Although there was a roar of protests when the IPAC made its reductions September 1 from those receiving public aid, and from welfare organizations, spending by the IPAC for these public aid programs will exceed the amount appropriated by the General Assembly by more than 13 million dollars, even after the reductions, unless the need for these public aid programs falls substantially below the October level for the next twenty months.

Those receiving relief and other public assistance, and the welfare organizations who testified before the Public Aid Commission contend that the IPAC should spend what it needs regardless of the appropriation, and then ask for a deficiency appropriation at a special session, or at the next regular session in 1951 of the Illinois General Assembly.

The Illinois Public Aid Commission contends that it has a responsibility to the taxpayers and to the General Assembly to live within the appropriation if it is humanly possible to do so; that despite the reductions made September 1 the demands for public assistance have so increased that the present rate of spending still will result in a deficiency unless the demand falls off; that, although the IPAC would like to increase its payments back to the pre-cut level, those receiving relief and aid to dependent children can still meet their bodily needs under the reduced grants by careful management. Even if every state agency lived within its appropriation from now until June 30, 1951, the State contends that it will still have to have between 100 million and 150 million dollars more money from new or increased taxes to operate the two years starting July 1, 1951.

The only alternative under new or increased State taxes in 1951 is a drastic program of retrenchment during the next 20 months. If the Illinois Public Aid Commission exceeds its appropriation by 13 million dollars or more, it will make new or increased State taxes more certain. To be specific, all the talk about new or increased State taxes means an increase in the retailers' occupation tax, or sales tax, from the present rate of 2% up to at least 3% on each dollar.

Would those who have been so vocal in condemning the Illinois Public Aid Commission for trying to live within its income support an increase in the sales tax to 3%, or higher, particularly when the IPAC contends that the present rate of assistance is not below the subsistence level?

Find human leg and arm on Lake county roadside

Lake county police officers are confronted with a deep mystery in the finding of a human arm and leg in a burlap sack in a ditch along route 59A east of Ivanhoe. The gruesome discovery was made by 3 Ivanhoe boys, Charles Jarrett, 12, and his brother, Henry, 11, and and Ronnie Dorfler, 10.

According to the boys' report, they had noticed the bag lying in the ditch several weeks ago but paid no particular attention to it. One day one of the boys stumbled over the bag causing it to tear open and revealing the hand and arm. They carried their find to the Jarrett home and the sheriff's office was notified.

Dr. Asa L. Meyers, who examined the nearly fleshless limbs, said they appeared to be those of a man between the age of 65 and 70 years and between 5 feet 9 inches and 5 feet 11 inches tall. He estimated the limbs had been in the bag for three or four months. A badly worn shirtsleeve clung to the upper portion of the arm, but it bore no markings to aid in the police search for clues. Fingerprints could not be taken because of the deteriorated condition of the limbs.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Right in season

Blonde, blue-eyed George, 19 months, is affectionately called "Pumpkin" by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. MacIntosh, 120 S. Linden, Palatine. As a baby he was so chubby that his mother dubbed him "Pumpkin" and the name is still with him even though he's thinning down a bit.

Right now he is in St. Louis, Mo., with his mother, visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs T. Rekosh, and attending a family reunion. He won't go to sleep without his teddy-bear, his daddy says, and fondly watches his two goldfish before dozing off every night.

Ready for anything

Roberta and Laura, 27 month old twin daughters of the Kenneth Eeles, 918 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, are active all the time, declared their mother. Bobbie and Laurie can scale a 48 inch fence with no trouble at all; they crawl to the top and fall over, a neat trick at any age.

They like to play with their bikes and cars, and hold their own in any neighborhood spat.

The tykes learned early to give and take and can take care of themselves in any situation. The girls have pigtails now and find great sport in snapping each others when they can get away with it.

Here, in brief, is what 81st congress did and didn't do in first session

Here's a score sheet on what the first session of the 81st congress did with President Truman's "fair deal" program:

Taxes — Plea for $4,000,000,000 tax hike ignored. Repeal of federal levies on oleomargarine approved by House, but no action in Senate.

Housing—Approved long range program to spur construction of low rent public housing units and provide slum clearance aids.

Labor Laws — Repeal of Taft-Hartley Act and substitution of revised Wagner Act sidetracked by house. Raise in minimum wage standard from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour approved, but undetermined number of workers removed from wage-hour act coverage.

Anti-inflation — Request for standby wage and price controls, plus allocation authority refused. Congress also let federal curbs on installment credit and bank loans expire in June.

Social Security—Expanded coverage and increased benefits approved by house, but no action in senate.

National health insurance — No action in either chamber.

Education—Plan for federal aid to states passed by senate, but bottled up in house labor committee.

Rent controls — Rejected request for two-year extension but approved a one year continuation in a states' right basis whereby curbs can be removed by local action.

Farm Program — Shelved the Brannan plan, and approved a comoromise price support program which generally provides for a continuation of wartime props under major crops.

Defense — Proposal for universal military training ignored. Biggest peacetime appropriation for armed services approved.

Civil Rights — Repeal of poll taxes approved by house, but no action in senate; anti-lynching legislation approved by senate committee, and fair employment practices commission approved by the House committee.

Pay raises—Nearly every federal employe from a buck private up to the commander-in-chief himself and including postal workers, civil service employes and top executives were voted salary hikes.

Economic — Second year's installment on Marshall plan aid to Europe approved; reciprocal trade agreements program renewed without restrictions voted by last congress; international wheat agreement ratified by senate; export controls extended for two years; plan to aid development of backward areas of world with government-backed private investments not acted on by either house.

Displaced persons — Bill to let more homeless Europeans into U. S. passed by house. Senate deferred action until next January.

Global Defense — The 20-year mutual aid treaty between 12 North Atlantic Nations ratified by Senate; a $1,314,010,000 military air program to help build up defenses of Atlantic Pact members and other friendly nations united against communism was passed.

Opening Saturday, October 29, and continuing through Sunday, November 27, the 1949 Chicago International Exhibition of Photography will be on display at the Museum of Science and Industry.

The exhibition, representative of the best in contemporary pictorial photography, consists of 384 prints selected from the 1,584 submitted from photographers throughout the world.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Should a man hold the arm of a woman companion while walking along the street?

A. No; and neither should she cling to his arm. However, a man should assist an elderly woman by taking her arm, unless she appears to resent such attention, and he may guide any woman companion in crossing streets or assist her in ascending or descending steps, by laying his hand lightly on her arm.

Q. When passing your plate for a second helping of some dish, what should be done with the silver?

A. Always leave the silver on the plate.

Q. Is it all right for a divorcee to have a maid-of-honor and two bridesmaids at her second marriage?

A. No; she should have no more than one attendant at her second marriage.

Q. Is it proper for a prospective bridegroom to offer to pay for part of his bride-to-be's trousseau?

A. No; this would indicate a lack of tact on his part. He need not be impatient about this, as future clothing expense will be all his after the marriage.

Q. Is it all right to partake of fried chicken with the fingers?

A. This is all right at picnics and such affairs, but at the dinner table the knife and fork should be used.

Q. Should a girl smoke her own cigarettes when going out with a young man, or should she smoke her escort's?

A. Either way is correct.

Q. If one fails to hear a name in an introduction, is it all right to ask the one who is making the introduction to repeat it?

A. Address your question to the person being introduced to you, as, "I'm sorry, but I did not hear your name clearly."

Q. At a wedding supper, where should the father of the bridegroom be seated?

A. At the right of the bride's mother.

Q. Is it proper to remove serving dishes or dinner plates first from the table?

A. The dinner plates should be removed first from the table, then the serving dishes.

Q. When writing a "thank you" letter to a relative who has sent a check as a birthday gift, should one say how the money is going to be used?

A. Yes; it is always nice to do this whenever any gift of money is received.

Death route near Woodstock wins again

Death is always a passenger in cars that travel route 14 near Woodstock. Friday morning another crash took another life, when a passenger car rammed the side of a left-turning truck about one mile outside of Woodstock.

Alexander Bourneas, 50, 55 W. Jefferson St., Joliet, driving a produce truck loaded with potatoes, was attempting to turn left from route 14 into the driveway of a used car lot on the north side of the road. The truck was proceeding east.

A passenger car from Chicago, containing four men, was proceeding west and crashed into the side of the truck, turning it over and spilling the potatoes across the highway. So severe was the crash and so wide-spread the debris following the accident that the traffic was halted for some time and a long line of cars were stalled for as far back as a mile in either direction.

One of the men in the Chicago car, was instantly killed.

Bits o' business

Job-landing difficulties are back again for men over 45. A study of 1,000 jobs listed with one state employment service reveals only eight per cent open to men over this age . . . Any fears of a power shortage this winter may be dispelled by early returns from an Edison Electric Institute survey which indicate that there'll be adequate power in all sections of the country, though the excess in some regions will be slight . . . Mutual savings bank deposits have climbed to a new peak. Now totaling $19 billion, they've jumped $645 million, or 3.4 per cent, during the first eight months of this year . . . Bees are getting busier — they'll turn out some 230 million pounds of honey in 1949, 11 per cent above last year's output. The crop will be second in size only to 1945's record high of 233 million pounds . . . Highway "congestion paralysis" is menacing the automobile's freedom of movement, warn oil men. Suggested solutions: new highways, better traffic engineering.

In the future

A newly marketed right-hand rear-vision mirror eliminates blind spots for truck drivers. Two adjustable aluminum-backed mirrors pick up images in rear and relay them to the driver, permit quick backing into the curb without bumping hydrants, parking meters, pedestrians and other sidewalk hazards . . . Newest entrants in the continuing parade to plastics: a recently patented plastic paper clip; transparent plastic lampshades that wipe clean with a rub from a damp cloth; a snag — and rust-proof portable plastic clothes dryer which opens and shuts like an umbrella . . . Latest gadget for the home is a compact aluminum dispensing unit that attaches to the underside of garbage can cover, automatically squirts a deodorant with each tilt of the lid. A five-ounce filling is said to last for months . . . Television progress continues with a "safeTVguard" twin lead lightning arrester for video antennae. It's easily installed on the television mast, a grounded pipe, or any wall or window sill.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

by F. J. FREEMAN

November of 1948 was mild for the season of the year. The hardier fall migrants were slow in leaving and the winter visitants were late in putting in their appearance. November fourth went up to the Eustace Estate and Baker Lake and found the usual concentration of ducks, geese, and coots. Did see eight sandpipers which I tentatively identified as red-backed sandpipers. They are normally late in migrating and other details of coloration seemed to fit.

November 8th—On the way to Inverness this noon, I saw a flock of birds flying up from a pond a half mile or more to the east. Noted they appeared smaller than some gulls flying with them over the pond. As the flock came nearer, flying in a westerly direction, I trained my glasses on them and counted seventeen laughing gulls. So I thought, but they turned out to be Franklin gulls as I found out later. Peterson's guide says that immature Franklin gulls are very difficult to tell from second-year Laughing gulls. I noted the white tail, dark cap on head, and dark wing and took them for Laughing gulls in transitional fall plumage. Told some keen observers about my find, and they gave me the laugh. I could feel that my integrity as a bird watcher fell very low with them. This led me to review the facts, and I then wrote to the field editor of the Audubon Field Notes for this region. He wrote back and said that I had undoubtedly seen Franklin gulls as there was quite an invasion of them from the west. He also went on to say that an ornithologist in Ohio had "collected," that is shot and preserved the skin of a gull which he had in his possession for some years labeled as a Laughing gull when it was a Franklin gull. So I did not feel so bad after all.

Nov. 10th—The weather reports indicate that cold and snow is on its way. Yesterday Iowa had snow and we had rain. As a result the ducks and geese are on the move. Saw a small flock of blue and snow geese flying south near Itasca. Ate lunch by the Eustace Estate and saw another small flock take off to the south. There were still about two hundred left on the lake. Large flocks of ducks were rising and settling down in the fields back of the trees to feed and there was a continual coming and going. Suddenly all the geese took to flight and in watching them saw far up beyond them what I believe was a goshawk. This probably accounted for their scare.

Nov. 13th—This morning with clouds sailing by very low, Cornelia called me outdoors to see a flock of geese flying by. There were thirty-six in V formation flying southwest. The clouds were so low that the geese were quite often hidden in wisps and finally disappeared into them entirely. Later I saw a flock of about twelve large hawks sailing around in a compact flock and drifting south. These, too, disappeared into the clouds.

Nov. 15th—It has turned warm and sunny today. Cornelia and I drove into Montrose Harbor to look for birds. Found herring and Bonaparte gulls and several hundred red-breasted mergansers. The gulls were sitting on buoys, a not uncommon occurrence in this day and age! The female mergansers have longish feathers on the head which reminds me of a person badly in need of a hair cut. They look like such eager-beavers when they fly with their necks outstretched and their "hair" streaming back.

Nov. 30th—There are still two to three hundred wavies —snow and blue geese—at the Eustace Estate. Mr. Beckhart, the manager, tells me that in 1936 three thousand of them collected there. With the first real cold that gets down to business, they will be gone. The red-backed sandpipers left about the middle of the month and a few rough-legged hawks and some tree sparrows have come down for the winter. Just a couple of months now and we will be looking for the first signs of spring.

Safest person in U. S. now lives in New Jersey

The safest person in the United States has moved.

It used to be that little girl in Connecticut—remember? The National Safety Council's nominee for the mythical safety title is still a little girl, but she now lives in New Jersey.

The Council figures it this way: The 1949 edition of "Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook, shows that New Jersey had the lowest accident fatality rate of any state last year. The safest age group in the country was the 5-14 bracket. And for some reason, little girls seem to be safer than little boys.

VA has 53,000 hospital entrants in August

Approximately 53,000 ex-servicemen and women were admitted to Veterans Administration hospitals and hospitals under contract to the V-A during August, a record high for any one month, V-A said today.

Previously, the highest number of admissions was 51,000 during March of this year. The August total was 11 per cent higher than the total for August, 1948.

Although neuropsychiatric patients comprise more than half of the V-A hospital patient population because of the extended treatment required, veterans classified as general medical and surgical patients far outnumbered the admissions in the neuropsychiatric and tuberculous categories. Approximately 46,000 of the admissions were in the general medical and surgical classification.

Why are many modern women unhappy?

Why, with all their labor-saving devices, free time and hard-fought political and legal equality, are so many modern women discontented? Ferdinand Lundberg and Marynia F. Farnham M. D. present their well-considered and well-doucmented answer in Modern Woman, The Lost Sex.

The new generation of neurotics reared by the unhappy mothers of today worried them into writing this book. They point out why woman is unhappy and show that she must be given greater prestige as a woman before she can be satisfied with her maternal role and enjoy her sexuality as she has in the past.

Contrary to popular belief, woman enjoyed as much political and legal freedom before 1700 as she does now. It was lost for a brief period of time, and regained by the Feminist Movement. The emphasis of this movement was on women being equal, a concept the French Revolution brought into widespread usage in their slogan, "liberty, equality and fraternity."

One cannot consider woman equal to man because two unlike beings can never be equal; rather, woman is complementary to man. Man is aggressive, both sexually and in the working world. Woman is maternal, and her sphere is nurture. Where she tries to be equal to man, she becomes aggressive and can no longer retain her most enduring quality, her womanliness.

Yet she lost her prestige as a woman during the Industrial Revolution when the center of work shifted from the home to the shop. Following this, the schools took over her job of educating her children. Woman is left in the home with the most interesting tasks taken from her. The substitution of mechanical devices eases her drudgery, but for what? To have extra time for fashion, society, bridge-playing, window shopping? To compete with a man in a job outside the home, thus dividing her energies?

The laundry, cleaning and cooking left to her may fill her time, but they carry no sense of personal value. She is apologetic about her label "housewife." To gain back their importance, some women determine to emulate the male, to become equal to him in all ways. But this denies their essential womanliness, and they are torn between two poles.

The authors do not suggest turning back the calendar. They are not against mechanical preeminence, but man's reliance on it as necessary to his happiness. They have a number of progressive suggestions to make.

This book will stimulate many a woman to re-evaluate herself and re-aim her life. And the public, after a consideration of these facts, would do well to ponder the falling birth rate, the wide-scale divorces, the discontented and neurotic women that this mechanical age is spawning.

Episcopal women to hold annual symposium

The second annual Symposium of Women's Work in the Episcopal church will be held Thursday, November 3, at Dixon Chapel, 77 W. Washington st., Chicago, from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. Highlight of the day will be an address by Canon Bernard Iddings Bell, noted author of "Crisis in Education."

Following Canon Bell's appearance, a series of workshops will be held for the 200 women who will attend from parishes all over the Diocese of Chicago. The parish leaders will learn from experts about all phases of church work for women. The day's program will also include luncheon and a skit presented by the Diocesan Board of the Woman's Auxiliary, and the Board of St. David's church, Glenview.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS
NEWS FOR THE FARMER
C. A. Hughes Adviser and Editor

Farm bureau backs sliding parity — not the strict 90%

The U. S. Senate just adjourned jockeyed for a position on the parity question. Senators from the cotton country and surplus wheat sections want the 90% parity for government price support. Illinois, Iowa and the midwest especially favor a sliding parity from 90% down to 75% as surplusses pile up.

"As long as government guarantees 90% of parity farmers will produce surplusses and let the tax payer buy his crops," says Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "A 90% parity can be justified in carrying moderate surplusses. Experience in the carrying of moderate surplusses does not cost the tax payer anything. But experience with potatoes in particular has proven the continued 90% is a very costly procedure."

Senator Scott Lucas, while a supporter of the administration, has gone along with the thinking of the Farm Bureau in favoring a declining parity figure down to 75% as surplusses build up. To support Senator Lucas' stand the following wire was sent to him:

"Senator Scott Lucas
U. S. Senator
Washington, D. C.

We are in full accord with your stand on the flexible parity. Government must not support farmers' continued production of surplusses.

Cook County Farm Bureau
L. W. Pohlman, president."

"FARMERS CLAIM that they do not want government dictation in their business," says Farm Adviser Hughes. "To give farmers a chance to control surplus corn in Cook County, which is a considerable item even tho this is not a corn county, a program of farming will be announced and details given so they, themselves, and not the government will control their surplus. This program is simplicity itself, and has been advocated for years. All it needs is the thoughtful attention of farmers themselves.

"During the war years farmers were asked to raise grain," says Hughes, "to produce food for the war years it took all the surplus stored by the government up to 1941 and all farmers could raise. The war is over, the price of grain down, but the production of bumper corn crops continues.

"To raise less corn, only means to plant less acres in corn and more in legumes and grass crops. This means more dairy cows and livestock to use rotation pasture, hay and grass silage. More information is needed on grass silage which is definitely a proven use of legume-grass hays. Also, hay crops are cheaper to raise than grain. With grain prices down, grass is as profitable as grain or more so. This means less plowing, less erosion and more soil conservation.

"SUCH A CHANGE over takes some time, and we propose to offer farmers such assistance as can be given in meetings this coming winter and later on also.

"A revision of crop rotation is essential. The following rotation if used generally in Illinois would control surplus corn and increase the livestock population. Population has and is increasing, hence an increase in livestock, dairy and poultry will be in order in the future years. The following rotations are given to farmers on general farms to work to on having soil tests made. We suggest you compare it with your 1950 crops and what you would like to work to in 1955:"

National Plowing Champ

National plowing champion for the second consecutive year is Paul Stiefbold, Naperville, Ill., shown holding the gold trophy he won for placing first in the event near Runnells, Iowa, before 70,000 people. Stiefbold defended his National Level Land Plowing crown successfully against eight other finalists. A winner in 1946 and 1948, Stiefbold is the only three-time victor in the history of national plowing competition.

Swine erysipelas caused by hardy germ

It's easier to prevent erysipelas in your swine herd than to stamp it out after it gets a start. One reason may be the hardy nature of the germs which cause the disease.

Dr. M. E. Mansfield, a veterinarian at the University of Illinois, said today that scientists sometimes find living erysipelas germs in rotted material after 4 months. One scientist found the germ in a carcass that had been buried for 280 days.

Some experts believe that erysipelas germs even live in the soil of infected farms. This may account for occurrence of new outbreaks of the disease after a lapse of several years.

To prevent erysipelas in your swine herd, Dr. Mansfield suggests that you take strict sanitary precautions. Be sure the pigs you buy are free of the disease, keep all outsiders out of your swine lots, and play safe by staying out of theirs.

Be sure to buy Brucellosis free swine

Check to be sure the boar or gilt you buy this fall comes from a herd which is free of brucellosis.

Dr. G. T. Woods, University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine, warns that even healthy-appearing swine often have the disease and can pass it on to the home herd. The result may be sterility or abortions in your swine herd the next year.

If your swine herd becomes infected, it will increase the chance that you or members of your family may get undulant fever. This disease, which can be passed to man from hogs with brucellosis, strikes hundreds of Illinois residents each year.

Before buying new breeding stock, insist on seeing the herd's blood test record, Dr. Woods advises. Check to be sure the herd has been proved healthy by at least two blood tests 30 to 60 days apart.

If the herd hasn't been tested, try to get it done before you buy. Or test the animals before you purchase them and take them home. If they are negative, quarantine them for 30 to 60 days, and then retest before you add them to your herd.

It's easy to get careless about brucellosis, Dr. Woods warns. But it's a big job to stamp the disease out once it gets a foothold on your swine herd.

Holstein member

Clarice J. Meyer, Roselle, has just been awarded a Certificate of Merit and a junior membership in the Holstein-Friesian association of America, Brattleboro, Vermont. This recognition is for doing satisfactory Holstein Calf Club work as a 4-H member.

All privileges of the association except voting have been given to her until she is twenty-one years old. She was recommended by the state 4-H club leader and she is the 10,804th Holstein Calf club member to achieve this national recognition.

Heat, humidity affect milk fat content

A dairy chemist in the Illinois College of Agriculture said today that you can expect the butterfat content of Bossy's milk to rise this fall as the weather grows cooler.

R. J. Kiers explains that when the temperature gets down to 70 degrees, butterfat tests go up at the rate of about two-tenths of one per cent for every 10 degree drop in temperature.

Fat tests vary only slightly between temperatures of 70 and 90 degrees. Above 90 degrees, cows usually give less milk but the fat content goes up. Below 70 degrees, the fat content also rises.

Besides temperature, another condition affecting fat test is humidity. Kiers says in experiments which kept same humidity, changes in fat tests due to temperature changes were smaller than in studies which allowed humidity to change.

So when Bossy's richer milk puts more gold in your milk check this fall, it's just her way of saying, "It's the lack of heat and humidity."

Vegetable growers to converge on Indianapolis

Putting more and better vegetables on the consumers tables will be the subject of the five-day meeting of the Vegetable Growers Association of America at the Hotel Claypool, Indianapolis, November 13-17. At the 41st annual convention of the VGAA, growers will hear America's top agricultural leaders and see the newest developments in production and marketing research. 2,000 growers are expected to be on hand

Plain cattle may fit into winter feeding plans

Don't overlook the value of plain cattle when you are making plans for your cattle-feeding season.

Harry Russell, livestock extension specialist at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says that plain cattle can be profitable, too, especially when you have plenty of non-marketable roughage for feed.

Nearly every fall common to medium steers can be bought far cheaper than good to choice steer calves and light yearlings. It might be wise for you to check that price differential now if you are planning to buy calves.

Last year plain steers costing 19 to 22 cents a pound in the fall sold in April within three cents of the top on choice cattle. You should plan to market plain cattle by April or early May before the spring run of grass-fed cattle starts.

RUSSELL SUGGESTS that you pay particular attention to weight and middle in selecting plain steers. Conformation is more important than color, and the steers should be dehorned. Seven hundred pounds is good weight, but 800-850 pounds is more satisfactory, the heavier steers having more capacity to consume roughage.

Plain cattle can clean up pastures, stubblefields and stalk fields and finish up normally with a 40- to 60-day feed of corn and hay. Finish them only to a point consistent with their quality. Feeding them beyond market value enough to pay for that point will not increase their the extra feed.

Local youths seek top garden honors

Two Cook county junior farmers are entered in the ninth annual $6,000 Production-Marketing Contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association, according to an announcement by Paul R. Tuttle, Vocational Agriculture Instructor at Vermilion, Ohio and NJVGA adult leader in the Central States.

Local competitors, seeking the nation's junior vegetable growing championship and a share of the cash awards and scholarships provided by A&P Food stores, are Edward R. Lane, of RFD 1, Box 188, Arlington Heights, and Donald W. Linneman, of RR 1, Box 177, also Arlington Heights.

The program is designed to help young farmers develop new and more efficient methods for producing and marketing vegetables. It offers a $500 award for the national champion, four $200 regional awards, thirty-three $100 sectional awards and four $10 awards in each state. Winners will be determined by a judging board of college professors and officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They will be announced during the fifteenth annual NJVGA convention at Washington, D. C., in December.

December 1

Mrs. Clarence Cosman will hold an auction Thursday, December 1, on farm located on State road, 3 miles north of Itasca. Complete listing November 18 issue.

Golden Jubilee for Chicago stock show

All roads will lead to Chicago November 26 when the 50th anniversary edition of the International Live Stock Exposition opens for an eight-day run in the Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards.

The Exposition, often called "the show window of the livestock industry", will this year offer greatly increased prizes to mark the occasion of its 50th birthday. Premiums will be far in excess of the usual $100,000.

Cattle classes alone for all of the three beef breeds will offer exhibitors $60,000. Increased prizes are also scheduled for sheep, and swine. Sterling silver trophies, commemorating the Golden Anniversary, will be given champion winners in all departments.

The International management predicts that the event this year will attract the biggest entry in the history of the show, and the Amphitheatre and the yards should bulge with examples of the continent's best livestock and crops.

3,000 farmers read these pages 52 weeks of the year

Must check cars now 'ere winter starts

A thorough check of the cooling system prior to adding antifreeze is a major step in preparing motor trucks for winter driving, according to I. L. Pierce, national service manager for Ford Division, Ford Motor Company.

"Failure to take this precaution at the start of the season results in the anti-freeze solution in many trucks being lost each year through boiling away or leakage," Mr. Pierce explained. "When this happens, trucks become stalled, causing costly delays to truck owners and interruption of service, irritating to shippers, manufacturers, merchants and others who depend on truck transportation."

Hose lines and connections, he said, should be thoroughly checked for leaks. The radiator and entire cooling system should be flushed out, removing the sludge and dirty water which prevents free circulation.

TO ASSURE quick, easy starting in cold weather, Mr. Pierce listed the following additional precautions:

1. Keep the battery fully charged and charging. A fully charged battery, he said, will not freeze in temperatures ordinarily encountered, but a low battery may freeze and burst the case open at temperatures not much below 32 deg. F. See that the generator regulator is working properly.

2. At the approach of cold weather, the crankcase should be drained, flushed and refilled with the correct grade of oil for the coldest weather expected during th winter. Ford recommends use of SAE 10 or 10W oil in below freezing weather with one pint of kerosene added in extreme cold (under 10 below zero).

3. See if the engine needs a tuneup to assure quick starting.

4. CHANGE to winter grease in the transmission and differential if this is recommended by the manufacturer.

5. Have brakes checked for winter driving and be sure that tires are not worn so dangerously smooth they will make driving on icy roads doubly hazardous.

6. Drive slowly until the engine reaches normal driving temperatures.

7. Keep the fuel tank full as much of the time as possible to help prevent condensation of moisture and resultant freezing of the gas line. A good plan is to fill the gas tank at the end of the day's operations, rather than at the start.

Farmers can travel over colonial land

A highly interesting and educational all-expense tour to Colonial Land is being sponsored November 13-22 by "Agricultural Leaders' Digest," Chicago, a national magazine which is published for extension workers and vocational teachers in agriculture and home economics. The trip, which will originate in Chicago is being organized for farm folks who like to travel with their own kind of people.

The itinerary includes outstanding historic and scenic spots of Colonial America, beginning with Niagara Falls, seeing New York City, a day at historic Philadelphia and Valley Forge, Washington, D. C., Arlington and Mt. Vernon with the many historic shrines, restored Williamsburg, Jamestown, Yorktown, Richmond, Thomas Jefferson's home — the famed Monticello, and a trip over part of the Skyline Drive.

This tour is being conducted by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. (Cap) Mast, Jr. Cap, who is editor and publisher of "Agricultural Leaders' Digest," was formerly a 4-H Club leader in La Salle county, Ill. He has also been an editor of "Prairie Farmer," the Illinois Agricultural Association "Record" and "The Business of Farming."

Folders giving full information on the tour may be obtained by writing to "Agricultural Leaders' Digest," 139 N. Clark st., Chicago 2, Ill.

Farmers aid injured man in corn picking

Over 3,000 bushels of corn were picked last week by farmers who turned out to help Dorr Sherman, who was seriously injured last week near Woodstock.

Thirty-two farmers spent the day at the Frank Piska farm, a mile north of Illinois Route 120, and finished 50 acres of corn. All the elevators were full, so they were unable to pick the corn from the remaining two or three acres.

Sherman's right arm was amputated as a result of the accident last week. His clothing became tangled in the corn picker and he was pulled into the machinery.

Ten women pitched in and prepared a traditional "farm dinner," complete with huge platters of golden fried chicken, salads, home-made rolls, potatoes, cake, and gallons of steaming coffee.

'CARE' turkey package orders taken now for holiday gifts abroad

Though the dates look far-off on the calendar, it's not too early to order CARE's new Holiday Package for Thanksgiving or Christmas gifts to Europe.

The package, priced at $13.50, features a whole canned turkey and all the trimmings for a festive family dinner such as most Europeans have not been able to have for years.

The turkeys in the package are the famous Beltsville Whites variety, bred by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for minimum bone and maximum tender meat. Thus, though they average seven pounds, they are large enough to feed as many as 12 people.

In addition to the turkey, the package includes one pound each of plum pudding, powdered sugar (to make a hard sauce), Huyler's chocolates, orange marmalade, raisins, rice, bacon, coffee (a half-pound tea substituted for Britain), and a half pound of butter. As a final practical touch, there is also a can opener in each parcel.

Orders can be sent to any CARE office in major U. S. cities or to CARE, 20 Broad st., New York 5, N. Y.

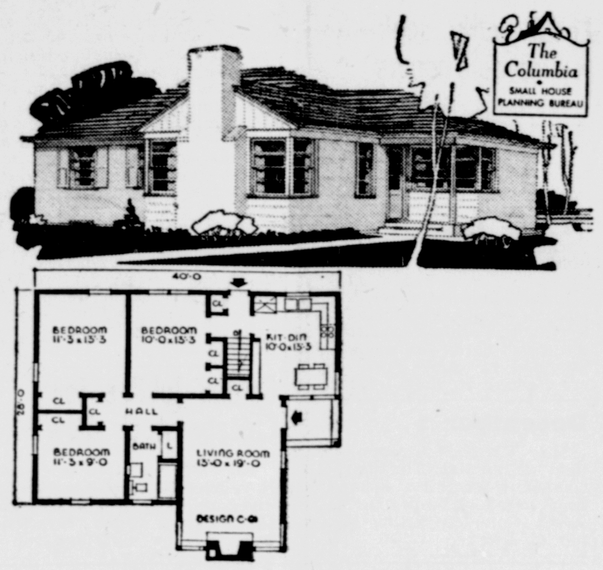
New ideas for that home



THE COLUMBIA is a compact one-story family home. It has 3-bedrooms with a spacious living room with a fireplace at one end and a modern kitchen-dinette combination.

The plan of The Columbia calls for frame construction with wide siding, a low-pitched hip-roof and wide over-hanging eaves.

The cabineted kitchen has the work area in the rear. The roomy dinette area is in the front section of the kitchen. The location of the windows in the airy working and eating room assures cross ventilation and light as well as an uncluttered three-way view of the front, side and rear yards.

The kitchen of The Columbia is also convenient to the front door. A door in the rear hall connects the kitchen to the center bedroom.

Wardrobe closets are built into every one of the three bedrooms. Handy coat closets are provided at both the front and rear entrances. There is a large general storage closet in the bedroom hall and a linen cabinet in the bathroom.

The main body of The Columbia is 28 feet by 40 feet with 1006 square feet and a volume of 19,756 cubic feet.

For further information about The Columbia, write to the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

NU homecoming Nov. 4-6 weekend

Alumni and friends of Northwestern University will throng back to the Evanston campus Nov. 4, 5, and 6 to celebrate with students the annual Homecoming weekend. High point of the colorful weekend will be the Northwestern-Wisconsin football game in Dyche stadium at 2 p. m., Saturday.

The weekend festivities will open Friday night with the traditional parade of floats built by student organizations. The parade will begin promptly at 7:15 p. m., rain or shine.

After the pep rally, activities will move to Cahn auditorium where the Men's Glee Club will present a short concert.

Saturday, Scott Hall's grill will be the scene of a luncheon for alumni and for members of Mortar Board and Deru, honorary societies for women and men, respectively. Luncheon will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Following the game, most of the Greek-letter societies will hold open house for their returning alumni.

Ponder function of trees before actual planting

Unless they're careful, that army of week-end shovel wielders busy across the nation with the advent of the transplanting season may need headache towels, along with the arnica.

It's easy to dig yourself a peck of trouble when trying to beautify the family castle, warns P. E. Hudson, field reprsentative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Mr. Hudson believes too few home owners realize the importance of selecting trees for specific purposes.

Factors that should be considered include size, shape, summer foliage, fall color, winter appearance, rate of growth, transplanting success, soil requirements and general hardiness, he maintains. On smaller properties particularly, selection "boners" may haunt the well-intentioned home owners for years to come. In time, trees and shrubs that get out of hand can make a once-happy abode a community eyesore. Evergreen foundation plantings, in particular, have a way of unexpectedly growing to tree-like proportions unless selections are wisely made.

The obvious thing, of course, is to get expert advice. Your nurseryman, landscape architect or gardener and tree expert are only too pleased to advise you about logical plantings for your purpose in your section. Ponder well the use to which the planting will be put.

Deciduous trees particularly well suited to fall planting include Douglasfir, fir, juniper, pine, spruce, and yew. The earlier the planting can be completed the better the opportunity for the roots to start getting established before the ground freezes.

Way Back When

Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money

Early German settlers were warmly welcomed by John H. Patten in the 1850's

WAY - BACK - WHEN goes back 150 years for the start of this week's story that includes a pioneer family, of which a son, Chas. H. Patten became Palatine's outstanding banker, builder of Palatine's first water system, its mayor and who in the early years of this century was the "father confessor" of trembling Palatine business firms and whose heart often gave loans as a private individual, where as a banker he would have had to say "no."

The story, however, does not cover the family life of Charles but of his father, John Patten, who was born at Londonderry, N. H. August 28, 1798, tne son of a sea captain, Thomas Patten, of Marblehead, Mass.

THOSE PALATINE residents today who remember the liberality of Charles H. Patten will discover from this account that Charles H. was a "chip off the old block."

In the spring of 1852 Mr. Patten resided at Sanbornton Bridge, now called Tildon, N. H., where he had been engaged in business for years, when he decided to "go west."

He sold his home and interests and bidding his friends goodbye, with his wife, who formerly was Lillis S. Fullerton, and four children, John, Lizabeth, Mary, and Nellie, left for "way out in Illinois."

The western terminus of railroads at that time was at Buffalo, N. Y. and soon after the arrival of the family there, they found themselves aboard the "boat Sultana." After a pleasant trip around the Lakes they landed in Chicago on a bright spring morning, May 12, 1852.

All were soon scrambling into a lumber wagon and out on the road for a 26 mile ride to the west end of Plum Grove to Samuel Smith's prairie home. Arriving in the afternoon, the Eastern friends were cordially welcomed by the Smiths who were "old time friends" in the East in years gone by.

MR. PATTEN bought the Samuel Smith farm. The establishment called "the house" consisted of two log houses connected by a frame part. It was situated on the same rise of ground a short distance west of the Alfred Rohde homestead which is located near the intersection of Old Plum Grove and Algonquin roads.

In the year 1853 prosperity abounded, and with it came a new baby boy to the new home of the Pattens, a "sure enough Westerner." He had come to stay, and here he has remained. He was named Charles H. Patten, and in 1898 built the Patten home at Benton and Wood streets now owned by his grandson, Chas. R. Patten.

In his new western life his father, John Patten, was interested in the school of the district. He engaged a teacher, arranged seats in his small log house where school was kept the full term, and soon there was a new frame school house.

The large German boys of the neighborhood came to Mr. Patten to be taught evenings how to read and write and he was ever afterward considered their benefactor. Some of those German young men became the first citizens of Palatine.

When the first railroad train was run through Palatine on the North Western railroad the eldest son of the Pattens was one to enjoy the free ride.

AFTER FIVE years of farm life Mr. Patten sold his farm to E. K. Whitcomb who owned the next farm west. He built a store and dwelling at Palatine station corner of Brockway and Slade streets, present National Bank corner, where he opened a general merchandise store. Those who applied in need, and without means, worthy or unworthy, were never turned away empty-handed.

In after years he sold this establishment to Henry Rickenberg and built a home on the corner of Benton and Wilson streets, where he passed the remainder of his days.

He was interested in church matters, having been a member of the Methodist church since 21 years of age. He was a charter member, a liberal contributor, and active in the organization and building of the Palatine new First M. E. church in 1858. In the retirement of a private citizen he might have been exceedingly well possessed of this world's goods, only for faith in others that they were as honest as himself. As it was he lived in comfort, leaving an inheritance to his wife and five children.

IN HIS advanced life, until his last illness of short duration, he was as active of mind, quick of step, and genial as in younger days. He enjoyed with zest a scripture argument with a friend of another church denomination, generally coming out best, as he had the Bible at his tongue's tip.

John Patten died February 10, 1879, and rests in the family lot in Hillside cemetery.

Mrs. Lillis S. Patten followed her husband to the far beyond March 28, 1885.

Palatine business block of 1860

The Flury building which stood on the present site of the Palatine National Bank building, was built and operated as a general store by John H. Patten and later by Henry Rickenberg It was sold in 1879 to John Flury, a Chicago baker, who opened a bakery shop, which was continued by his family after his death. A daughter of the family, Miss Mollie, became the bride of Harry Schoppe in 1900. On the removal of Mrs. Flury to Chicago, the bakery was conducted for a time by Mrs. Martha Stroker, mother of Mrs. Margaret Witt.

The building was moved about 1915 to the west end of the lot and faced south, where Ray Wilson conducted a candy shop and newspaper agency; later Dr. Renner purchased the structure and three years ago it was remodeled and is now owned by William Roper.

When the building was moved, a band stand was erected at the original corner and weekly band concerts provided throughout the summer months by the Palatine Military band.

MUMS

This has been a great fall for flowers, with the frosts holding off until so late in the season, and it has been a banner year for "mum" fanciers, who have had an abundance of beautiful flowers. Some of the mum growers go in for early varieties more this year and their stock of plants is already sold out.

Herman Timmerman, who is a great "mum" grower and fancier, has his usual beautiful display in his garden and still has some plants available for his customers.

BLUE-EYED PAT

Yes, that's the name of that famous five-year old maiden of the Bar W ranch that some of the boys around here are interested in.

The other day, while eating lunch in the city, we looked over the race entries and there was Blue-Eyed Pat, going in the second race at Sportsman's Park.

Knowing that Eddie Haseman, one of the owners, was way up in Canada on a hunting trip and feeling that he should have a first hand account of his "sleeper's" performance, we went out to see the fun.

We saw the famous Blue-Eyed Pat in the parade to the post. We'd never heard of the kid that was up, and Blue-Eyed Pat did get one call. There was a slight delay at the post, and over the public address system came the announcement, "Waiting for Blue-Eyed Pat."

The odds board showed 80-1 against the "sleeper," and if she could have won that race the daily double payoff would have been $1,003. But Blue-Eyed Pat ran eighth, beaten a little over six lengths and finishing in front of two horses. So there, Eddie, is your report on the nag's performance; better take her out to the farm.

TIP TO THE HIGH SCHOOL

The high school athletic department could take a page from the football book of the Palatine athletic association, and that is to install a public address system at the football games.

The Athletic club boys have a sound truck at their games, and that play-by-play account of what's going on adds an awful lot to the interest of the game, particularly with P-nuts Forgarett at the mike, for P-nuts sure does a grand job keeping the fans posted on what's going on.

At the high school games so far there has been no public address system, and the fans don't know whose doing what unless they can recognize the players, and not many of them do.

So, if you want to make those games a lot more interesting for the customers, you high school mentors can take a leaf from the athletic boys' book, if they can stand the expense with their moderate attendance. You fellows sure can, with your crowds, and for the guy at the mike telling us all about it, we'll nominate P-Nuts Fogarett; he's really good.

CALIFORNIA COMMENT

Huston DePue dropped in from California recently for a few days' visit with his brother Bill, and we had an interesting talk with him about conditions in general and about the greatly boomed state of California in particular. If some secretaries of those chambers of commerce out there in the golden west could have heard some of Huston's comment about the golden state, they might feel like throwing some over-ripe tomatoes or ancient eggs his way, because all of Huston's comment didn't exactly jibe with some of the glowing prospectuses of those chambers of commerce.

He said that the damage to the citrus crop, because of last winter's freeze, was not as bad as originally reported, but that many of the citrus growers are shortening up on their citrus plantings and going in for other things where the danger of frost damage is not so great.

The expense of keeping those smudge pots going in dangerous weather is heavy and entails a lot of labor besides.

He told of one community that brought a damage suit against the growers for damage done to their houses because of the smudge. The suit got nowhere, but it showed that the people not engaged in citrus fruit growing were not happy about being "smoked out."

We gathered from some of Huston's comments about his adopted state that, while it may be a great place in many respects, he still thinks this part of the country is a pretty good place to live in, also, and that no locality has anything on the central west in the long run.

WHO'D HAVE THOUGHT IT

Sid Page was standing on the sidelines at the Palatine-Bensenville football game a couple of weeks ago gazing around. He looked up at the flood lights that illuminated the field; he gazed off across Palanois Park and saw the twinkling lights of hundreds of homes; he looked at the blazing signs on business houses along Northwest highway, and then he turned around and remarked, "Who'd have thought it, we're a city!" Who would ever have believed these fields would ever be built up like this, with a lighted park and that big, new consolidated school right here where the pheasants used to run? I suppose in another five years we'll have the whole works — field house, swimming pool and all. If we want to live in the country, we'll have to move. This has got to be a city."

And Sid was right! Gone are the days when those prairies were the haunts of the pheasants, meadow larks, rabbits and black birds; when those fields furnished many a skating pond in the winter and were a beautiful carpet of prairie daisies in the summer. Gone are the days when the call of the golden plover or the whippoorwill was the only sound heard from those prairies. Now the roar of baseball and football crowds rings out on those prairies, and the shrill yells of hundreds of kids is heard from the school playground where the daisies used to nod. Yes, Sid was right. If we want to be in the country, we'll have to move. This is getting just like a city. We are a little country town no longer.

HOBBIES--yours and mine

by BETTY AINSLIE

Are you looking around for a different and unusual gift for birthday or Christmas? Or possibly you've admired the shell jewelry of a friend and wondered where you might get some yourself?

Mrs. F. T. Lind has a wonderful collection of earrings, bracelets and necklaces that she has made. Possibly you saw them displayed at the hobby show in Arlington Heights and were properly amazed at the lovely colors and clever arrangements of the shells that make up this delicate jewelry.

"I started making shell jewelry about three years ago," smiled Mrs. Lind when I talked to her in her attractive ranch home at 303 E. Circle avenue in Prospect Heights. "We needed a hobby for some of the youngsters attending daily vacation Bible school so I got started in making jewelry."

Marshall Field and Company carried Mrs. Lind's jewelry under the trade name of Lanis, but now she is going to sell pieces herself from her home saving you the sizable difference in price.

She has some really attractive and unusual earrings—whether you like them big or super small you'll find just the right pair in her collection. Several are clever little bugs, others in all sorts of flower clusters and still others form a single lovely flower. For instance one set Mrs. Lind declares is her favorite, is a gardenia pin and earring set that looks exactly like the real flower.

Mrs. Lind showed me plastic jewelry boxes which she decorates with shells. They'd look mighty pretty on a dressing table and stop frantic searching for jewelry in dresser drawers. A really special gift would be one of these boxes with a pin and earring set of your own selection peeping through the cotton interior.

"I make Christmas cards, place cards and tallys too, or make them up for some special occasion where you need something different."

She showed me a sample of tallys with clever Christmas wreaths in shells and Christmas cards with glistening pine trees all made from shells.

Now this hobby has been not only a means of happily filling extra time for Mrs. Lind, but profitable too as one person tells another about this jewelry and she sells a number of her pieces that way.

All the designs are her own, and speaking about one hobby leading to another, Mrs. Lind is now busy decorating sugar lumps. These tea table brighteners are clever and you can call Mrs. Lind for a mailable package.

If you'd like to try making your own jewelry, almost any hobby magazine has a long list of places where you can purchase all the supplies. Shells of all shapes, sizes and colors—the plastic backs for pins etc., and the special glue. It's fascinating to make your own costume jewelry and you'd be surprised at the clever things even the beginner can make.

Take it from Mrs. Lind this is a hobby that is always fun, and one even a busy mamma can pick up at spare moments and do. So possibly this is the hobby for you.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I have a friend who is a mustard plaster. Whenever I come to a place in life where I can not stand to go on because everything looks dark and I am discouraged, unhappy, bitter, cynical and disillusioned with myself and the world in general, I apply him. So far, he has never failed me.

At such times, I go to my mustard plaster friend with a long face like a dog which has been caught doing disrespectful things to the new rug you just paid a hundred and fifty nine dollars for, and he looks at me and says: "What's the matter, old fellow, is it really that bad?"

So I begin telling him little bits of my troubles, and, good plaster that he is, he is very interested. He keeps asking questions, drawing out the gruesome details of my woe, all of the self pity, anger, bitterness and cynicism in my heart, and just like a fellow with a bad cold in the chest, pretty soon my plaster begins to take effect and I feel better. He offers a few gentle suggestions that hit the nail right on the head, and points out that most of my trouble is in my own mind and thinking, and soon we are talking and joking, and I never felt better in my life.

You can see that a friend who is a mustard plaster is a very necessary person in such circumstances. That is why, if you do not have such a friend, I would advise you to get one. Only it is not like going out to buy a cake of soap or a package of cigarettes. It is much more complicated. You must pick out a certain kind of friend for a mustard plaster. He must have a good, kind sense of humor, be patient and long suffering, must love you very much and be willing to overlook all of your childishness, selfishness and orneryness. Also, he must be the kind of fellow who is eager to listen and help, but will keep your secret even when he is mad as all get out at you. Such friends are hard to find.

If you can not find such a friend, you will find that pastors make excellent mustard plasters. Doctors are good, too, but they cost two or three dollars per application, and if you are downhearted very often, this will run into a lot of dough. Loving wives and husbands are good. An affectionate dog is good. Many a man has been brought to his senses by the deep sympathy in a dog's eyes, and the understanding wag of his tail. I once knew a fellow who talked to his horse, and the things that horse heard must have been pretty awful from the way he rolled his eyes and snorted—but the horse never told a soul!

THE FENCE POST

GARBAGE PROBLEM

I've read in your paper of the garbage disposal problem, so that is why you get this if you care to read it.

Fifteen years ago in Rochester, Minn., I met a new form of garbage collection.

The collector said, lady you'll have to remove all the wrappings, our pigs do not care for paper. The garbage was collected for $1.00 per month and taken to pig farms.

You took your truck to a designated spot on the Zumbro river bank.

We went one evening. You emptied your bag, or whatever, on the ground in front of a man with a long handled fork, he poked thru it to see if there was any garbage. The place looked weird in the night, small fires dotted the bank, each tended by a uniformed figure with a long fork.

From the other side of the river it looked uncanny, if you let your imagination run.

We drove around but never found the pig farm.

You probably heard this before and your waste basket is handy.

Less in Bank

"Emergencies and sickness" were named by many people as a cause for their having less in government bonds and bank accounts in 1949 than they had in early 1948.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

I wonder if I've ever told you about a friend of mine who has a unique way of "counting her blessings," particularly at a time of disappointment?

She says "When something goes wrong I've learned to bear it by thinking of the things that pleased me within the short period of 24 hours. It's surprising what a morale booster this little system can be."

This being "blue Monday" with all my dear ones off to work and school, leaving me alone, I decided to tabulate a few of the pleasant things that occurred in my life over the past week end, and here is what I discovered:

That a clump of beautiful, bronze-gold chrysanthemums is blooming in a partly hidden spot in the perennial bed—that unexpected (or expected for that matter) visits from Number 2 son, Jack, and his friends from school will always bring happiness for me—that we were gifted with several pairs of indoor folding shutters from the old Jelke home in Chicago—that Mrs. Arthur Nelson of Arlington Heights had the interest and time to write me such a very nice letter—that Number 3 son, George, acknowledged with manly grace an introduction to an old client of Rob's—that the beloved John T. McCutcheon's cartoon, "Injun Summer" appeared once again—the delicious coffee Rob made and brought to my bedside Sunday morning — that Number 4 son, Edward, received 5 A's and 3 B's on his first report card of the year—the visit from the young holder of a Phi Beta Kappa key who teaches George high school geometry—the Chinese food we had at Sunday dinner— the cover on the November issue of Holiday magazine—that Number 1 son, Bob, is finding Law School as fascinating as he had hoped—that the frost didn't "get" the lovely geraniums before they were re-potted for indoor blooming—the generous invitation from Jack to be his guest for the Homecoming festivities at Northwestern November 4th and 5th —five inches knitted on the white crib rob I hope to have finished by December 1st — the preparations well under way for Edward's Hallowe'en party on the 28th—the first use of the "well and tree" platter that George and Edward gave us on our 25th wedding anniversary, October first—the fun I had giving George a lesson in driving the "jeep"—the pleasure it gave me to see the happiness on our favorite blacksmith's face when we gave him two pints of our homemade chili sauce — the attitude of great humility of the Reverend Leo Keenan —the possession of an old hand-carved figure of an early missionary to Guatemala—the way the Weeping Willows near the rock garden wave in the Fall breeze—the large flock of birds that flew over the south pasture on their farewell flight—the end of my cold!

Until next week, with love,
Mary.

Weekly recipes

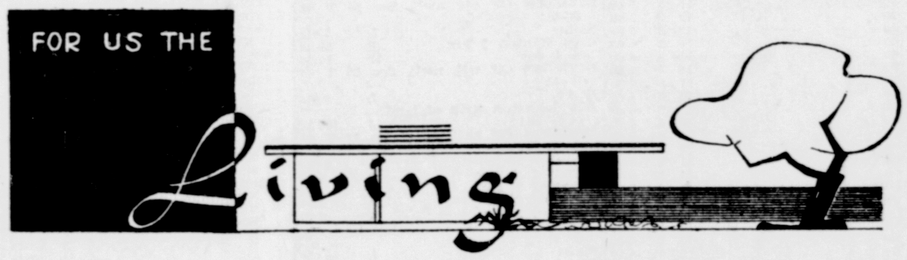
A clever hostess climaxes a meal with a special dessert. Leave a lasting impression on your guests by serving Chocolate Cream Roll.

Chocolate Cream Roll

6 tbspns sifted cake flour
6 tbspns cocoa
½ tsp. double acting baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
¾ cup sifted sugar
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten
4 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon colored.
1 tsp vanilla
1 pint (or more) ice cream or whipped cream

Method: Sift flour once and measure; add cocoa, baking powder and salt and sift again. Fold sugar gradually into beaten egg whites; fold in egg yolks and vanilla. Fold in flour gradually. Pour into a 15"x10" pan which has been buttered and lined with paper to within ½ inch of edge and generously butter the paper. Bake in preheated oven at 400 degrees for 13 minutes. Quickly cut off crisp edges of cake. Turn from pan at once onto damp cloth to cool. Remove paper. When ready to serve, spread roll with ice cream—roll as for jelly roll. Cut and serve.

Variation: Spread while hot with cooked frosting and roll at once.



Why has California been so much more congenial to good contemporary design than Illinois? Did Hollywood and its stage settings and abundant wealth and willingness to venture turn the trick? Whatever the answer is there is no logical reason why most of everything the so called modern movement has done on the Pacific coast cannot bring the same enjoyments of life and living to us in the middle west. And indeed it already has in a very few single instances in homes for the well-to-do few. There are probably three hundred homes of good contemporary design in the Chicago area. But this number doesn't help many of the five million souls that habitate this same area.

The fact is that the Middle West is ripe for good contemporary design, for homes of eye appeal in addition to reasonable cost. The old traditional forms are passing. A new type of home is coming that will open vistas to improved living, to more comfort, to new and surprising attractiveness. Inside, these houses will be limited only by generous opening windows that admit ample light and permit restful outlook, and by doors that move aside to enlarge the living area of the house so as to include the terrace and garden.

Anticipation of the future is the key to adequate home design for tomorrow. The house that is just ahead will be designed in response to the new and changing world in which we are living. It will be better planned, better built, more appealing in appearance, and at the same time it will cost less. Attractiveness and livability are practical necessities. We need to strive for them in our designs as much as we do for protection against the elements.

The better arranged and more attractive house will require what may be termed "open planning," wherein zones of activities will be provided, and where living areas will expand naturally into garden spaces. Such a house will be much more open than the conventional house of today, offering more opportunities for the reflection of personalities of those living in the house. Straight lines, smooth surfaces, right use of materials, simple proportions and pure colors are all applicable to tomorrow's house.

Improvements in tomorrow's house include such things as panel heating. This is an improved method whereby entire walls or floors or ceilings supply a room with heat. Because of their large expanse they need be kept only gently warm. Drafts are avoided and there is never any feeling of chilliness. Yet the air temperature in the room need never be raised to a point unhealthfully high, regrettably, such systems are still in the luxury class. Semi-radiant heating is the economy answer today in the medium priced house.

Another needed improvement which appears never to be overemphasized enough is that of adequate storage. The average family collects upward of 10,000 articles that ordinarily clutter up a house, but which should be stored properly for orderliness and convenience. In strong contrast to this is the list of 32 articles which the 19th Century writer, Thoreau, listed as ample for his manner of living at Walden Pond. Today, the homeowner with 20th Century habits surrounds himself with paraphernalia and possessions which overflow the storage and closet space provided even by the medium-size house.

Since these things are a real part of modern life which contribute to the general satisfaction of living, we must design to provide needed space for them. The kinds of space for storage of clothing, foodstuffs, household articles, toys and sports equipment, of everything from an automobile to pins and needles, serve only to introduce one of the major requirements for better house planning.

Fortunately the planning of space does not involve great expense. By using large structural units, the planning of the house can be made free, flexible, and irregular in contour, thus avoiding standardization and monotony. By juggling with spacious walls, garden courts at two, three or four sides of a house can occur naturally. And these courts can become terraces for sitting and dining. Interior rooms can all have access to the garden, the yard, or the terraces.

As we seek to reduce the cost of a house to bring it within reach of the many, it becomes more and more necessary to achieve compactness and maximum utilization of space while retaining the appearance of spaciousness. This has led to the combination of living and dining areas, and sometimes even sleeping accomodations, in a single room. There are delightful possibilities in the very small home of returning to the complete combination of all living requirements in a single space much the way the early pioneer did in his log cabin. And with today's use of glass the early log cabin could seem quite spacious and a very agreeable abode.

COOK COUNTY
DELINQUENT
TAX LIST

Advertisement and Notice of Collector of Cook County of Application for Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots for General Taxes for the year 1948, and Notice of Sale Thereof and application for judgment, fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest and for order for sale on such payments, as provided by law.

OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER OF COOK COUNTY AND EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Elk Grove Township
October 27, 1949

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County will apply to the County Court of Cook County, on the 7th day of November, A. D., 1949, for judgment against lands and lots hereinafter described as being delinquent upon which taxes remain due and unpaid, or personal property taxes charged thereon as noted in this advertisement, remain due and unpaid, for said taxes, interest and costs, and for an order to sell said lands and lots for the satisfaction thereof according to law (excepting from said judgment and order of sale the cases which are included in this advertisement for sale only under former unexecuted judgments and order of sale as may be noted in this advertisement).

Notice is also given that an application will be made for judgment fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest.

Notice is further herein and hereby given that on the Second Monday next succeeding the 7th day of November, A. D. 1949, to-wit, the 21st day of November, A. D. 1949, at the hour of 8 o'clock A. M. all said lands and lots hereinbefore described for sale of which an order shall be made or have heretofore been made and not executed as noted, will be exposed to public sale at the County Building of Cook County, where the County Court is held in said County for the amount of taxes, interest and costs due thereon, respectively.

The following is a list of delinquent lands and lots upon which the taxes remain due and unpaid, the name of the owners, where known, the total amount due thereon (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised) and the year or years for which the same is due.

(The total amount due in this application on each tract or parcel of land or lot is the sum of the amounts appearing due in the advertisement.)

EXPLANATORY NOTE — In this list in all places where no other notation is made the figures in the column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and the "cts" (meaning cents) represent the taxes due and unpaid for the year A. D. 1948. Where the letter "F" is placed to the left of the figures in this column it is intended for an abbreviation of the word "forfeiture" and denotes that the amounts set down to the right of the same are the amounts due and unpaid on said lands and lots for which said lands and lots have been previously forfeited to the State. When back taxes are extended they are indicated by the letters "B. T."

PAYMENTS OF TAXES, MADE AFTER PRINTERS COPIES ARE SENT TO PUBLISHERS FOR LISTING AND APPEAR AS DELINQUENT IN THIS ADVERTISEMENT, WILL BE SATISFIED IN JUDGMENT RECORDS BEFORE SALE.

Where no description of property (either land, lot, block or portion thereof) appears in said list to the left of and opposite the figures in said column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and "cts" (meaning cents) said figures relate to the land, lot, block or portion thereof last above described, appearing to the left of the opposite said "$" and "cts" column. "Name" in the words "name" where used in the list means name of the owner of said delinquent lands or lots, "desc" in said words means description of said lands or lots.

COOK COUNTY
DELINQUENT
TAX LIST

Advertisement and Notice of Collector of Cook County of Application for Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots for General Taxes for the year 1948, and Notice of Sale Thereof and application for judgment, fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest and for order for sale on such payments, as provided by law.

OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER OF COOK COUNTY AND EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Barrington Township
October 27, 1949

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County will apply to the County Court of Cook County, on the 7th day of November, A. D., 1949, for judgment against lands and lots hereinafter described as being delinquent upon which taxes remain due and unpaid, or personal property taxes charged thereon as noted in this advertisement, remain due and unpaid, for said taxes, interest and costs, and for an order to sell said lands and lots for the satisfaction thereof according to law (excepting from said judgment and order of sale the cases which are included in this advertisement for sale only under former unexecuted judgments and order of sale as may be noted in this advertisement).

Notice is also given that an application will be made for judgment fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest.

Notice is further herein and hereby given that on the Second Monday next succeeding the 7th day of November, A. D. 1949, to-wit, the 21st day of November, A. D. 1949, at the hour of 8 o'clock A. M. all said lands and lots hereinbefore described for sale of which an order shall be made or have heretofore been made and not executed as noted, will be exposed to public sale at the County Building of Cook County, where the County Court is held in said County for the amount of taxes, interest and costs due thereon, respectively.

The following is a list of delinquent lands and lots upon which the taxes remain due and unpaid, the name of the owners, where known, the total amount due thereon (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised) and the year or years for which the same is due.

(The total amount due in this application on each tract or parcel of land or lot is the sum of the amounts appearing due in the advertisement.)

EXPLANATORY NOTE — In this list in all places where no other notation is made the figures in the column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and the "cts" (meaning cents) represent the taxes due and unpaid for the year A. D. 1948. Where the letter "F" is placed to the left of the figures in this column it is intended for an abbreviation of the word "forfeiture" and denotes that the amounts set down to the right of the same are the amounts due and unpaid on said lands and lots for which said lands and lots have been previously forfeited to the State. When back taxes are extended they are indicated by the letters "B. T."

PAYMENTS OF TAXES, MADE AFTER PRINTERS COPIES ARE SENT TO PUBLISHERS FOR LISTING AND APPEAR AS DELINQUENT IN THIS ADVERTISEMENT, WILL BE SATISFIED IN JUDGMENT RECORDS BEFORE SALE.

Where no description of property (either land, lot, block or portion thereof) appears in said list to the left of and opposite the figures in said column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and "cts" (meaning cents) said figures relate to the land, lot, block or portion thereof last above described, appearing to the left of the opposite said "$" and "cts" column. "Name" in the words "name" where used in the list means name of the owner of said delinquent lands or lots, "desc" in said words means description of said lands or lots.

COOK COUNTY
DELINQUENT
TAX LIST

Advertisement and Notice of Collector of Cook County of Application for Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots for General Taxes for the year 1948, and Notice of Sale Thereof and application for judgment, fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest and for order for sale on such payments, as provided by law.

OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER OF COOK COUNTY AND EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Palatine Township
October 27, 1949

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County will apply to the County Court of Cook County, on the 7th day of November, A. D., 1949, for judgment against lands and lots hereinafter described as being delinquent upon which taxes remain due and unpaid, or personal property taxes charged thereon as noted in this advertisement, remain due and unpaid, for said taxes, interest and costs, and for an order to sell said lands and lots for the satisfaction thereof according to law (excepting from said judgment and order of sale the cases which are included in this advertisement for sale only under former unexecuted judgments and order of sale as may be noted in this advertisement).

Notice is also given that an application will be made for judgment fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest.

Notice is further herein and hereby given that on the Second Monday next succeeding the 7th day of November, A. D. 1949, to-wit, the 21st day of November, A. D. 1949, at the hour of 8 o'clock A. M. all said lands and lots hereinbefore described for sale of which an order shall be made or have heretofore been made and not executed as noted, will be exposed to public sale at the County Building of Cook County, where the County Court is held in said County for the amount of taxes, interest and costs due thereon, respectively.

The following is a list of delinquent lands and lots upon which the taxes remain due and unpaid, the name of the owners, where known, the total amount due thereon (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised) and the year or years for which the same is due.

(The total amount due in this application on each tract or parcel of land or lot is the sum of the amounts appearing due in the advertisement.)

EXPLANATORY NOTE — In this list in all places where no other notation is made the figures in the column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and the "cts" (meaning cents) represent the taxes due and unpaid for the year A. D. 1948. Where the letter "F" is placed to the left of the figures in this column it is intended for an abbreviation of the word "forfeiture" and denotes that the amounts set down to the right of the same are the amounts due and unpaid on said lands and lots for which said lands and lots have been previously forfeited to the State. When back taxes are extended they are indicated by the letters "B. T."

PAYMENTS OF TAXES, MADE AFTER PRINTERS COPIES ARE SENT TO PUBLISHERS FOR LISTING AND APPEAR AS DELINQUENT IN THIS ADVERTISEMENT, WILL BE SATISFIED IN JUDGMENT RECORDS BEFORE SALE.

Where no description of property (either land, lot, block or portion thereof) appears in said list to the left of and opposite the figures in said column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and "cts" (meaning cents) said figures relate to the land, lot, block or portion thereof last above described, appearing to the left of the opposite said "$" and "cts" column. "Name" in the words "name" where used in the list means name of the owner of said delinquent lands or lots. "desc" in said words means description of said lands or lots.
